DECLARATION OF ROBERT NUNNENKAMP

- I, Robert Nunnenkamp, declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington as follows:
- 1. My name is Robert Nunnenkamp and I am employed as a Property Agent with the King County Division of Parks and Recreation. I have held this position since 2000. As a Property Agent, I am familiar with the East Lake Sammamish Rail Corridor ("Corridor"), including the railroad features acquired by King County from BNSF. I am over the age of eighteen, have personal knowledge of the facts stated below and am otherwise competent to testify regarding these matters.
- 2. When King County recently applied for a Shoreline Substantial Development Permit for Segment 2B of the East Lake Sammamish Trail ("Segment 2B"), the County provided the City of Sammamish with documents establishing King County's right to develop the trail. True and correct copies of following documents were provided to the City and attached to this declaration: (a) Deed No. 9704280575 conveying the Corridor from BNSF to the Land Conservancy (Exhibit 1); (b) Deed No. 9809181252 conveying the Corridor from the Land Conservancy to King County (Exhibit 2); (c) Order on Cross Motions for Summary Judgment, Hornish v. King County, No. 2:15-cv-00284-MJP (April 20, 2016) (Exhibit 3); (d) Judgment Quieting Title to King County, No. 2:15-cv-00284-MJP (May 13, 2016) (Exhibit 4); (e) King County v. Rasmussen, 299 F.3d 1077 (9th Cir. 2002) (Exhibit 5); and (f) Ray v. King County, 120 Wn.App. 564 (2004) (Exhibit 6). These documents establish King County's property rights in the Corridor, which are sufficient to construct a permanent trail in Segment 2B.
- 3. Under the federal Trails Act, a railroad or property holder may "railbank" a corridor to preserve it for future railroad use and allow interim public trail use. See 16 U.S.C. §

- 1247(d). The Corridor is currently railbanked under the authority of the Surface Transportation Board ("STB"), which has issued a NITU order authorizing trail use. King County is seeking to construct a permanent trail along Segment 2B in order to fulfill its obligations under the Trails Act in accord with the NITU. Because the Corridor is railbanked, the City's authority to regulate trail construction and operation is limited. See Exhibit 7 (Friends of the E. Lake Sammamish Trail v. City of Sammamish, 361 F. Supp. 2d 1260, 1274 (W.D. Wash. 2005) (The City of Sammamish regulations "apply only to the extent that they do not frustrate development of a trail on the railbanked right of way.")).
- 4. In accord with its statutory duties, King County maintains a recording system for all property ownership documents for all public and private land located within King County. Based on these recorded deeds and other property documents, the King County Assessor maintains tax records that list the property owner. The following King County parcel numbers describe the portions of the Corridor that are located within Segment 2B: 292506-9007, 322506-9015, 062406-9013, 072406-9004, and 082406-9214. The records of the King County Assessor list King County Parks as the owner of each of these parcels. All of these parcels were conveyed to King County through Deed No. 9704280575, which is attached as Exhibit 2.
- 5. For the City's convenience, Exhibit 8 is a table that lists the parcel numbers and the source deeds underlying those parcels. The source deeds reflect the original sale of the Corridor to the railroad many decades ago. King County is the successor in interest to those deeds. The Deeds attached as exhibits 9 15 and 17-19 grant the county fee ownership of the parcel. For the property covered by exhibit 16, the County has the right of exclusive control and possession (including the right to exclude others) due to a land grant from the federal government.

- 6. Attached as Exhibit 25 is a map that illustrates King County's ownership and control of the Corridor of Segment 2B of the Corridor. The map using color coding to illustrate King County's property rights within the corridor. The blue easement areas are controlled by the documents attached as exhibits 20 24. These easements, which were generated through legal proceedings, explicitly grant King County an easement to build a trail.
- 7. In addition, on July 31, 2014, as part of the SSDP application for East Lake Sammamish Trail South Segment A (SSDP Permit #2014-00171) King County provided the City with a map of the south segment of the ELST, including the section that is the subject of this development proposal. For your convenience, we have attached as Exhibit 27 a courtesy copy of this map. This map listed some historical information on the railroad's acquisition of the Corridor, as well as the parcel numbers and recorded property owners for parcels adjacent to the trail.
- 8. The chart attached as exhibit 8 and the map attached as exhibit 25 also list parcels implicated in construction of the Inglewood Parking Lot. The Inglewood Parking Lot will be constructed on the following parcels: 357530-0260, 357530-0340, 357530-0365, 357530-0370, and 357530-0460. King County Parks is listed as the owner of record by the Accessor for each of these parcels. As supported by exhibit 26, King County purchased these parcels and owns them in fee. In addition, portions of the parking lot will be constructed on Parcel No. 2925069007, which King County also owns in fee. In connection with its recent permit submittal, King County provided the City with title a title report further illustrating its fee ownership of the Inglewood Parking Lot parcels. See attached exhibit 28. In addition, King County recently obtained an updated title report for the Inglewood Parking Lot parcels, which is attached as exhibit 29.

Signed under penalty of perjury under the laws of Washington on this 29th day of November, 2016, at Seattle, Washington.

1 IT IS ORDERED that Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment is DENIED. 2 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Defendant's motion for summary judgment is GRANTED; Plaintiff's claims are ordered DISMISSED with prejudice. 3 4 Background 5 At issue in this lawsuit is a strip of land formerly utilized as a railroad corridor in King 6 County, Washington ("the Corridor"). The Corridor was created in the late 1800s by the Seattle, 7 Lake Shore & Eastern Railway Company (the "SLS&E") through a combination of federal land 8 grants, homesteader deeds and adverse possession, resulting in a strip of property comprised of 9 both easements and fees simple. See Beres v. United States, 104 Fed. Cl. 408, 412 (2012). 10 The Hornish property is adjacent to land acquired by SLS&E through a quit claim deed in 11 1887 ("the Hilchkanum Deed"). (Decl. of Nunnenkamp, Ex. E.) When Hilchkanum sold the 12 remainder of his property, he excluded the Corridor from the property description. (Id., Ex. F.) 13 There are no original deeds for the portions of the Corridor adjacent to the remaining Plaintiffs. 14 The property surrounding the Corridor in these areas was owned by the Northern Pacific 15 Railroad by means of an 1864 land grant. (Id., Ex. G.) In 1889, Northern Pacific conveyed the 16 land surrounding the Corridor to Mr. Middleton (without mentioning the Corridor; id. at Ex. H); 17 Defendant claims that tax assessment rolls from 1895, however, exclude the 100 foot Corridor 18 from Middleton's property. In the 1909 Pierce County probate action following Middleton's 19 death, the Corridor was expressly excluded. (Decl. of Hackett, Ex. C. at 4, 8.) 20 SLS&E eventually became part of Burlington Northern & Santa Fe ("BNSF"). In 1997, 21 BNSF conveyed its interest in the Corridor to The Land Conservancy ("TLC") via quit claim 22 deed. (Decl. of Nunnenkamp, Ex. I.) Later that year, TLC petitioned the Surface Transportation 23 Board ("STB") to abandon the use of the Corridor for rail service and King County declared its

1	intention to assume financial responsibility for the area as an "interim trail sponsor," a process
2	created by the Trails Act known as "railbanking." See 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d).
3	On September 16, 1998, STB issued a Notice of Interim Trail Use ("NITU"). The Land
4	Conservancy of Seattle and King County – Abandonment Exemption – in King County, WA,
5	No. AB-6 (SUB 380X), 1998 WL 638432, at *1 (Sept. 16, 1998). As part of TLC's arrangement
6	with the County to take over as trail sponsor, the County was granted all TLC's ownership
7	interest in the Corridor, which was memorialized by a Quitclaim Deed recorded in King County.
8	(Decl. of Nunnenkamp, Ex. J.) The County then constructed a soft surface public trail and is in
9	the process of constructing a paved trail the length of the Corridor. (Mtn., at 4.)
10	Discussion
11	Hornish Plaintiffs' property
12	The County presents federal and state authority supporting its position that it owns a fee
13	interest in this part of the Corridor. In King County v. Rasmussen , 299 F.3d 1077, 1087 (9th Cir.
14	2002), the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals found that "Hilchkanum intended to convey a fee
15	simple interest in the strip of land described;" the "strip of land" being a 100-foot corridor
16	granted to SLS&E (which interest was later conveyed to the County). Two years later, the state
17	court reached a similar conclusion (citing the reasoning in Rasmussen with approval) in Ray v.
18	King County, 120 Wn.App. 564, 589 (2004).
19	Plaintiffs cite two cases as well. First, Brown v. State , 130 Wn.2d 430 (1996), which laid
20	out a series of factors to be considered when determining whether an easement or fee was
21	intended to be conveyed in a railroad right of way. Second, Kershaw Sunnyside Ranches, Inc. v.
22	Interurban Lines, 156 Wn.2d 253 (2006) which held that "whether by quitclaim or warranty
23	deed, language establishing that a conveyance is for right of way or railroad purposes
24	presumptively conveys an easement" Id. at 269.  Exhibit 21

1 The Court remains unpersuaded that Plaintiffs' authority stands for the proposition they assert (that the Hilchkanum Deed conveyed an easement). First of all, the Washington Supreme Court in Kershaw qualified their holding as follows: "[W]hen the granting document uses the term 'right of way' as a limitation or to define the purpose of the grant, it operates to 'clearly and expressly limit[] or qualify[y] the interest conveyed." Id. at 265 (citation omitted). The Hilchkanum Deed does not use the phrase "right of way" to describe or limit the purpose of the grant, an impression which is bolstered by the habendum language in the conveyance indicating that SLS&E is "[t]o have and to hold the said premises with the appurtenances unto the said party of the second part and its successors and assigns forever." (Decl. of Nunnenkamp, Ex. E at 2.) There are no conditions of use imposed on the grant. Had the Hilchkanums intended to limit the purpose of the grant, presumably they would not have assigned it unconditionally and forever to their grantee. Second of all, even if the Court were to follow Kershaw to the point of entertaining the presumption that an easement was conveyed, the courts in Rasmussen and Ray went through the same analysis of the Brown factors that the Washington Supreme Court did in Kershaw and concluded that the grant intended to convey an interest in fee simple; i.e., the presumption was successfully rebutted. Plaintiffs have given us no reason to overturn that ruling. Indeed, neither Rasmussen nor Ray were overturned in the wake of Kershaw, and Rasmussen remains controlling precedent for this district. Mention must be made (as both sides do) of Beres v. United States, 104 Fed. Cl. 408 (Fed.Cl. 2012), in which the Federal Claims Court examined the Hilchkanum Deed in the light of Kershaw and came to the exact opposite conclusion as the Ninth Circuit in Rasmussen; i.e., that the Deed conveyed an easement, not a fee interest. Id. at 430-31. The Federal Claims Court

1	conducted an exhaustive analysis of the Deed and the case law concerning the proper
2	interpretation of such conveyances. In the final analysis, the most that can be said is that
3	reasonable jurists disagreed: the Ninth Circuit arrived at one conclusion and the Federal Claims
4	Court arrived at another. This Court is bound by Ninth Circuit ruling, and on that basis finds that
5	the County owns the portion of the Corridor abutting the Hornish Plaintiffs' property in fee
6	simple. The County's summary judgment motion in that regard is GRANTED.
7
8	The remaining Plaintiffs
9	Nature of the railroad easements and the Trails Act
10	The County seeks the authority to exercise all the rights in the Corridor that the railroads
11	had. Plaintiffs interpose two interrelated arguments that they should not be allowed to do so.
12	Plaintiffs' first argument is that the Trails Act preserves the right of the railroad to
13	reactivate its easement for future purposes only; another way Plaintiffs phrase this is by arguing
14	that railbanking is not a "current railroad purpose" and that railbanking extinguishes the railroad
15	easement. This is relevant to the County's argument that it has the power to exercise all the
16	rights the railroad had under its railroad easement.
17	The weight of authority favors Defendant's position that railbanking does not extinguish,
18	suspend or otherwise operate as an abandonment of the railroad easement. The Supreme Court
19	has held that "interim use of a railroad right-of-way for trail use, when the route itself maintains
20	intact for future railroad purposes, shall not constitute an abandonment of such rights-of-way for
21	railroad purposes." Presault v. Interstate Commerce Commission, 494 U.S. 1, 8-9 (1990)
22	(quoting H.R. Rep. No. 98-28 at 8-9 (1983)).
23	Nor does the language of the Trails Act lend itself to Plaintiffs' interpretation.
24	Exhibit 21

1	[I]n furtherance of the national policy to preserve established railroad rights-of-way for
2	future reactivation of rail service in the case of interim use of any established railroad rights-of-way pursuant to donation, transfer, lease, sale, or otherwise in a manner
3	consistent with this chapter such interim use shall not be treated, for the purposes of any law or rule of law, as an abandonment of the use of such rights-of-way for railroad
4	purposes.
5	16 U.S.C. § 1247(d)(emphasis supplied). As U.S. District Judge Coughenour of this district has
6	pointed out in a similar case, (1) "preserve" means ""[t]o keep in its original or existing state:
7	to maintain or keep alive" (Oxford English Dictionary, 3d ed.) and (2) the statute says
8	"preserve for future reactivation," not "preserve upon future reactivation." Kaseburg v. Port
9	of Seattle, 2015 WL 4508790 at *3-4 (W.D. Wash. July 24, 2015).
10	For their second argument on this point, Plaintiffs cite to a 1986 Washington case which
11	held that the change in use (from rails to trails) of a railroad right-of-way constituted
12	abandonment of the railroad easement. Lawson v. State of Washington , 107 Wn.2d 444, 452
13
14	(1986). But Lawson is not a case involving the federal Trails Act and thus that court was not
15	guided (or constrained) by the language in the Trails Act indicating exactly the opposite.
16	Plaintiffs also quote the language of the Federal Circuit court in a later Presault case ( Presault v.
17	United States , 100 F.3d 1525, 1554 (1996); " Presault II ") that railbanking is not a "current 18	railroad purpose" and in fact constitutes abandonment of such purpose. What Plaintiffs fail to
19	point out is that the language is from a concurring opinion and has no precedential power.
20	The County takes its "no abandonment, no extinguishment" argument one step further
21	and maintains that, by virtue of its quitclaim deeds from BNSF, it acquired all of BNSF's
22	property interests in the Corridor. Decl. of Nunnenkamp, Ex's I and J. Judge Coughenour's
23	Kaseburg order sides with the County on this issue, finding that "the Trails Act preserves
24	railroad easements and [] a trail sponsor may own and exercise the rights inherent to the railroad easement." 2015 WL 4508790 at *4. The Kaseburg court found support for this holding in State 2 v. Presault (63 Vt. 38, 42 (1994))("The fact that the defendants' excavation activities do not present a threat to the bicycle and pedestrian path is irrelevant because these activities impinge 3 on the original railroad easement.") and a Federal Claims case which held that "a trail sponsor 5 must have the same control over the entire right-of-way corridor that would be held by a railroad..." Illig v. United States, 56 Fed.Cl. 619, 631 (2003). 6 7 Secondarily, the County cites the "incidental use" doctrine, which "states that a railroad 8 may use its easement to conduct not only railroad-related activities, but also any other incidental activities that are not inconsistent and do not interfere with the operation of the railroad." 10 Kershaw Sunnyside Ranches, Inc. v. Yakima Interurban Lines Assoc., 121 Wn.App. 714, 731 11 (2004), reversed on other grounds, 156 Wn.2d 253, 274 (2006)(citation omitted). Railroads are 12 public highways under Washington law and, "[i]n Washington, the owners of public highway 13 easements retain exclusive control over uses incidental to their easements." Kaseburg, 2015 WL 14 6449305 at *8 (W.D. Wash., Oct. 23, 2015)(citation omitted). 15 As part of its claimed right to "incidental uses," the County seeks confirmation of its 16 subsurface and aerial rights pursuant to its interest in the Corridor. It claims these as co-17 extensive with the "railroad easement" rights it asserts were acquired in the quitclaim deed from 18 TLC. There is evidence in Kaseburg that "BNSF regraded parts of the corridor, built trestles 19 over water, dug culverts, and built signaling equipment overhead ([C14-0784JCC] Dkt. No. 126 20 at 2-5.)" Id. at *7. The Court takes judicial notice of those "incidental uses" exercised under the 21 railroad's easement powers prior to conveying the Corridor, and adopts the finding in Kaseburg: 22 23

Because the scope of trail easements under the Trails Act is coextensive with railroad easements, Illig, 58 Fed.Cl. At (sic) 63, the Court now holds that the Corridor Easements provide exclusive subsurface, surface, and aerial rights in the corridor for railroad and trail purposes."

Id.

It is the finding of this Court that the railroad easement survives, that the County's rights are coextensive with the railroad's and that it "is entitled to the exclusive use and possession of the area on, above, and below the surface of the Corridor for railroad purposes and incidental uses permitted by Washington law, including use as a recreational trail." (Mtn., at 1.)

The Court finds further support for this ruling in the language of the Trails Act itself: "[I]n furtherance of the national policy to preserve established railroad rights-of-way for future reactivation of rail service..." (16 U.S.C. § 1247(d).) The County would be unable to "preserve establish railroad rights-of-way for future reactivation of rail service" if it could not employ and protect the full range of rights which the railroad possessed in the Corridor (and which it may yet possess again). Summary judgment will be granted in favor of the County on this issue.

Width of the Corridor

Preliminarily, the Court disposes of the undisputed matters concerning this particular issue:

1. Although the County seeks a declaration that the Corridor is 100 feet wide, it acknowledges that BNSF entered into "prior property transactions" (specifically, with the Morels, Menezes and Vanderwendes Plaintiffs) which decrease the size of the Corridor in certain parcels (50 feet adjacent to the Morels, 75 feet adjacent to the Menezes and Vanderwendes; see Decl. of Nunnenkamp, ¶¶ 21, 23-24).

2. There are no original deeds delineating the nature of the property interest originally acquired by SLS&E/BNSF and conveyed to TLC and the County. This means that the property rights which the County seeks to establish must be analyzed as those emerging from an easement by prescription (as opposed to an easement arising from claim of title).

There is a marked distinction between the extent of an easement acquired under a claim of right and the scope of one acquired under color of title. When one seeks to acquire an easement by prescription under a claim of right, user and possession govern the extent of the easement acquired. It is established only to the extent necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the easement is claimed.

Northwest Cities Gas Co. v. Western Fuel Co., 17 Wn.2d 482, 135 P.2d 867 (1943).

On the other hand, however, where one's occupancy or adverse use is under color of title that is a matter of public record, possession or user of a portion is regarded as coextensive with the entire tract described in the instrument under which possession is claimed. Omaha & Republican Valley R. v. Rickards, 38 Neb. 847, 57 N.W. 739 (1894).

Yakima Valley Canal Co. v. Walker, 76 Wn.2d 90, 94 (1969)

In keeping with the finding that the County possesses an interest and property rights coextensive with the railroad easement, Defendant's rights pursuant to a prescriptive easement would be those necessary for the operation of a railroad, and the boundaries of the Corridor would be the amount of property (up to 100 feet) required to accomplish that. The County presents ample evidence that railroad operations require boundaries that extend further than simply the width of the railroad tracks (Def Mtn at 20-22), including declarations from railroad personnel that a 100 foot wide corridor is required

• As a "safety buffer to ensure minimum setbacks between freight trains and residential development, to prevent nearby construction and development activities that could undermine the stability of the steep slopes above and below the tracks, and to provide access for maintenance activities, such as tie replacement, that require significant clearance on one or both sides of the track." (Decl. of Nuorala, ¶ 8, Decl. of Hackett, Ex. J.)

To provide space between each of the rails, side clearance, drainage of the slope, a drainage ditch, and access for maintenance and emergencies (such as derailments).

(Decl. of Sullivan, ¶¶ 4-5, 8-9.)

The only Plaintiffs who bring forward any evidence that the 100 foot Corridor does not represent the extent necessary for railroad operations are the Morels, who present proof that at one point the house which originally stood on their property (from 1920-2000) was within the right of way now claimed by the County, as well as walkways and trees planted well within the Corridor. (Decl. of Morel, Ex. B.)

The Morel evidence does not suffice to create a disputed issue of material fact. First, the "extent of the right is fixed and determined by the user in which it originated" (NW Cities Gas Co. v. Western Fuel Co., 17 Wn.2d 482 486 (1943)(citation omitted)), in this case by the SLS&E in the 1890s. The Morels do not hold themselves out to be experts in railroad operations, do not rebut what Defendant's railroad experts say about the extent necessary for operations and do not create a disputed issue of material fact. Furthermore, the County has conceded that the Corridor narrows to 50 feet abutting the Morels' property line (a transaction in which the quitclaim deed acknowledged that the Morels were purchasing "a portion of BNSF's 100.0 foot wide Snoqualmie Line right of way;" Quitclaim Deed, Decl. of Nunnenkamp, Ex. O) and the Morels' current house is outside that 50 foot strip.

Exhibit 21 SSDP2016-00415

1 None of the other Plaintiffs provide similar evidence of encroachments upon the 2 Corridor, but even had they done so the above analysis would apply. Plaintiffs' inability to provide any expert testimony rebutting Defendant's evidence of the necessity of a 100 foot wide 3 corridor for railroad operations entitles the County to summary judgment on this issue. 5 RCW 7.28.070 6 BNSF executed a quitclaim deed to TLC in 1997 that included a complete description of 7 the 100 foot-wide Corridor (with the exceptions noted above). (Decl. of Nunnenkamp, Ex. I.) 8 The following year, TLC conveyed that same property (with the identical legal description) to King County. (Id., Ex. J.) Both deeds were recorded. Since assuming title to the property, the 10 County has paid all fees and taxes on the Corridor, including fees for surface water management, 11 noxious weed control, and conservation futures. Decl. of Sweany, ¶ 3.1 12 RCW 7.28.070 provides: 13 14 Every person in actual, open and notorious possession of lands or tenements under claim and color or title, made in good faith, and who shall for seven successive years continue 15 in possession, and shall also during said time pay all taxes legally assessed on such lands or tenements, shall be held and adjudged to be the legal owner of said lands or tenements, 16 to the extent and according to the purport of his or her paper title. 17 In addition to holding the Corridor "under claim or color of title" since the 1998 quitclaim deed 18 and paying taxes on the property since that time, the County has been in "open and notorious" 19 possession of the Corridor by recording the deed, appearing as trail sponsor in public 20 21 <sup>1</sup> The Morels claim to have paid taxes on the Corridor. (See Pltf Response, Ex. B., Dkt. No. 54-2 at 4-5, 10.) Their claims about their 1971 taxes (which actually appear to include portions of the Corridor) are irrelevant as 22 they predate the County's acquisition of the property in 1998. Their assertions regarding their "Current Property Taxes" (p. 10) appear to indicate that, although they did not pay taxes based on a property line that includes the 23 Corridor, their property's assessed value was based in part on improvements which encroach upon the Corridor. This is not the same thing as paying taxes on the Corridor and does not refute the County's claim to have done so since the 1998 conveyance.

proceedings before the STB, removing the old railroad tracks, installing a soft-surface trail and requiring adjacent landowners to apply for permits for crossings or other encroachments on the Corridor. (Decl. of Nunnenkamp, ¶¶ 2-11, 18.)

The Washington Supreme Court has held that color of title exists when a deed

5 "su 6 Scr

"sufficiently describes the property in question and purports to convey it to the [movants]."

Scramlin v. Warner, 69 Wn.2d 6, 8 (1966). By recording the deed, the titleholder "dispenses with the need for other proof of a hostile or adverse claim... color of title itself establishes those elements." Fies v. Storey, 21 Wn.App. 413, 422 (1978). Finally,

[W]here one's occupancy or adverse use[] is under color of title that is a matter of public record possession or use[] of a portion is regarded as coextensive with the entire tract described win the instrument under which possession is claimed.

Yakima Valley Canal Co. v. Walker, 76 Wn.2d 90, 94 (1969).

Plaintiffs make no substantive response to this argument, interposing instead an argument that they had "inadequate notice" (under FRCP 8(a)) that Defendant intended to assert claims that the Corridor was 100 feet wide or that the County claimed title by virtue of adverse possession. It is not a persuasive argument. Defendant's counterclaims included allegations that "Plaintiffs... have interfered with King County's property rights in the ELSRC by erecting and maintaining various unauthorized improvements that impede King County's access to its property, its exclusive control, and prevent public enjoyment" (Answer, Dkt. No. 32, Counterclaim ¶ 3) and that "[u]nder RCW 7.28, title to any disputed portions of the corridor should be quieted in King County." (Id. at ¶ 4.) The Court finds it difficult to believe that, in a dispute about property lines, a party was not on notice that the actual size of the property was going to be an issue.

Exhibit 21 SSDP2016-00415

1 Plaintiffs also claim that "King County's request for summary judgment on the width issue... attempts to circumvent this Court's prior order remanding the issue to the Washington 2 State court." (Pltf Response at 12.) Again, this fails to persuade. First, this Court did not 3 remand "the width issue" to the Washington State court, but remanded the Neighbors v. King County case (C15-1358MJP) on Plaintiffs' motion. At no time have Plaintiffs moved to have 5 this case stayed or remanded on the basis of that decision and they will not be allowed to cherry-6 7 pick an issue while proceeding forward with the remainder of this case. Either this case (and all its issues) is properly before this court or it is not. Additionally, the Hornish Plaintiffs are not a 8 party to the Neighbors case, so their claims can only be adjudicated in this proceeding. 9 10 Standing under the centerline presumption doctrine 11 This is the resumption of an argument the Court addressed in June 2015. (Dkt. No. 19, 12 Order re: Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Standing.) Roeder County v. Burlington Northern, 105 13 Wn.2d 567 (1986) is the Washington case which established the "centerline presumption" 14 doctrine: 15 16 Generally then, the conveyance of land which is bounded by a railroad right of way will give the grantee title to the center line of the right of way if the grantor owns so far, unless the grantor has expressly reserved the fee to the right of way, or the grantor's 17 intention to not convey the fee is clear. 18 Id. at 576. However, the Washington Supreme Court set two restrictions on the presumption. 19 The first restriction states: 20 When, however, a deed refers to the right of way as a boundary but also gives a metes and bounds description of the abutting property, the presumption of abutting landowners 21 taking to the center of the right of way is rebutted. A metes and bounds description in a 22 deed to property that abuts a right of way is evidence of the grantor's intent to withhold any interest in the abutting right of way, and such a description rebuts the presumption that the grantee takes title to the center of the right of way. 23 24

Id. at 577. The Court's previous ruling (that Plaintiffs' deeds contained metes and bounds descriptions that used the railroad right of way as a boundary) is the law of the case. The second restriction concerns chain of title: The presumption that the grantor intended to convey title to the center of the right of way is inapplicable where the adjoining landowner presents no evidence of having received his or her property from the owner of the right of way. A property owner receives no interest in a railroad right of way simply through ownership of abutting land. Id. at 578. Plaintiffs also claim they have established chain of title back to the original grantor. First, their failure to establish the first prong of the centerline presumption test renders their proof in this regard moot. Second, they do not succeed in establishing the chain of title --Defendant presents evidence that in the probate of the original grantor (Middleton), the Corridor was specifically excluded. (Decl. of Hackett, Ex. C at 4, 8.) It is, at the very least, a disputed issue of material fact but (as mentioned) the Court is not convinced that proof one way or the other would be determinative of the issue. In rebuttal, Plaintiffs file a declaration from an "expert witness," a civil engineer with purported expertise in "identifying source deeds that Railroads used in acquiring specific property and determining what rights were conveyed to the Railroad." (Decl. of Rall, Dkt. No. 54-4, ¶ 1.) The expert makes no mention of having examined the Middleton probate document which excludes the Corridor. More critically, Plaintiffs offer no authority supporting their right to offer expert testimony on the legal interpretation of a deed. On the contrary, "expert testimony [regarding] the interpretation of a contract [is] an ultimate question of law upon which the opinion of an expert may not be given." PMI Mortgage Ins. Co. v. Amer. Int'l Specialty Line Ins. Co., 291 Fed.Appx. 40, 41 (9th Cir. 2008). The Court has not considered the expert's opinion in reaching its conclusion on this issue.

1 Ultimately, the Court finds the issue of the centerline presumption to be non-2 determinative of the issues presented by this case. In the first place, it is only a presumption and a ruling one way or the other would not foreclose the losing party from presenting evidence to 3 rebut the presumption. Secondly (and more to the point), the Court's rulings on the other issues presented establish the parties' respective rights to a degree which renders the centerline 5 6 presumption doctrine inapplicable. 7 Conclusion 8 9 The Court GRANTS summary judgment to King County on the following issues: 10 1. "Railbanking" under the Trails Act preserved all rights formerly held by the railroad 11 easement owners. 12 2. King County holds all of BNSF's property rights (besides the trail rights created by the 13 Trails Act); i.e., King County holds a "railroad easement" and a "trails easement." 14 3. As holders of a "railroad easement," the County has subsurface, surface and aerial rights 15 in the Corridor to extent permitted by Washington law. 16 4. The County owns the portion of the Corridor adjacent to the Hornish property in fee. 17 5. Except where narrowed by prior transactions, the County owns a 100 foot-wide easement 18 adjacent to Plaintiffs' property. 19 6. Even if the County had not acquired the 100 foot Corridor from BNSF, it acquired the 20 same through the operation of RCW 7.28.070. 21 7. Plaintiffs lack standing under the centerline presumption doctrine to challenge the 22 County's property rights. 23

It is hereby ORDERED:

- 1. King County is granted a decree quieting title free and clear from all claims by the Plaintiffs and/or their successors in interest to any portions of the land conveyed by the September 18, 1998 quit claim deed from The Land Conservancy to King County (recording No. 9809181252), which is attached as Exhibit A to this judgment. The Plaintiffs, King County, and their successors in interest shall recognize in perpetuity the boundary lines described in Exhibit A.
- 2. Title is quieted confirming that King County owns a fee interest in the portions of the property described in Exhibit A that are derived from the May 9, 1887 deed from Bill and Mary Hilchkanum to the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern Railway, which is attached as Exhibit B to this judgment. Consistent with the boundaries of the property conveyed by the Hilchkanum Deed, King County owns a fee interest in all portions of Government Lots 1, 2, and 3 of Section 6, Township 24 N, Range 6 E that are described in Exhibit A.
- 3. Title is quieted confirming that King County owns a prescriptive easement in the portions of the property described in Exhibit A that are derived from the August 26, 1889 deed from the Northern Pacific Railway Company to Samuel Middleton (recording No. 44096), which is attached as Exhibit C to this judgment. Consistent with the boundaries of the property conveyed by the Middleton Deed, King County owns an easement interest in all portions of Government Lot 2 of Section 7, Township 24 N, Range 6 E and Government Lots 1 and 3 of Section 17, Township 24 N, Range 6 E that are described in Exhibit A. King County is entitled to exercise its easement rights in any manner consistent with the April 20, 2016 Order.

299 F.3d 1077 United States Court of Appeals, Ninth Circuit.

KING COUNTY, a political subdivision of the State of Washington,
Plaintiff-counter-defendant-Appellee,

John RASMUSSEN; Nancy Rasmussen, husband and wife, and their marital community, Defendants—counter—claimants—Appellants.

No. 01–35610. | Argued and Submitted June 13, 2002. | Filed Aug. 9, 2002.

County filed suit to quiet title to 100-foot-wide strip of land that bisected landowners' property and to obtain declaration of its rights to use former railroad right of way for public trail. Landowners filed counterclaims and removed action. The United States District Court for the Western District of Washington, Barbara J. Rothstein, Chief District Judge, 143 F.Supp.2d 1225, entered summary judgment for county, and landowners appealed. The Court of Appeals, Betty B. Fletcher, Circuit Judge, held that: (1) action was properly removed under federal question jurisdiction; (2) original homesteader of surrounding tract had power to convey either easement or fee simple title at time of conveyance to railroad; (3) under Washington law, landowner conveyed fee simple title and thus landowners had no reversionary interest when railway was abandoned; (4) district court did not have authority to review action of Surface Transportation Board (STB) under Rails to Trails Act; (5) county did not violate First or Second Amendment rights of landowners; and (6) landowners due process and rights to compensation for taking of land were not violated.

Affirmed.

Cases Arising Under Laws of United States

Quiet title action was properly removed where it could have been originally brought in district court under federal question jurisdiction, inasmuch as plaintiff based a legal right to strip of land in question on federal Rails to Trails Act. 16 U.S.C.A. § 1247(d).

OPINION

BETTY B. FLETCHER, Circuit Judge.

This case arises from a dispute over a 100-foot-wide strip of land running along a portion of the eastern shore of Lake Sammamish in King County, Washington, *1080 that was formerly used as part of a railway corridor. King County filed suit against the Rasmussens to quiet title over this strip of land, which bisects the Rasmussens' property, and to obtain a declaratory judgment that it is entitled to quiet enjoyment of the strip.

King County claims it owns a fee simple estate in the strip. The Rasmussens, in turn, claim that their predecessors in interest granted only an easement over the strip and that the rights in the easement have reverted to the Rasmussens so that they now have fee simple title to the strip. The district court granted summary judgment in favor of King County and dismissed the Rasmussens' counterclaims. Because we conclude that no genuine issues of material fact exist for trial and that King County holds the strip in fee simple, we affirm.

I.

Factual and Procedural Background

In 1876, homesteaders Bill Hilchkanum and Mary Hilchkanum claimed property along the eastern shore of Lake Sammamish in King County, Washington. They received their final ownership certificate in 1884 and their fee patent in 1888. On May 9, 1887, the Hilchkanums conveyed an interest in the strip to the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway Company ("the Railway"). The text of the "Right of Way Deed" is as follows:

In consideration of the benefits and advantages to accrue to us from the location construction and operation of the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway in the County of King in Washington Territory, we do hereby donate grant and convey unto said Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway Company a right of way one hundred (100) feet in width through our lands in said County described as follows to wit

Lots one (1) two (2) and three (3) in section six (6) township 24 North of Range six (6) East.

Such right of way strip to be fifty (50) feet in width on each side of the center line of the railway track as located across our said lands by the Engineer of said railway company which location is described as follows to wit [legal description in metes and bounds].

And the said Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway Company shall have the right to go upon the land adjacent to said line for a distance of two hundred (200) feet on each side thereof and cut down all trees dangerous to the operation of said road.

To have and to hold the said premises with the appurtenances unto the said party of the second part and to its successors and assigns forever.

The deed was handwritten by a notary public.

Mary Hilchkanum later conveyed lots 1 and 3 of the homestead property to her husband by quitclaim deed. The conveyance is "less (3) acres right of way of Rail Road." Bill Hilchkanum then conveyed lot 1 to Chris Nelson "less three (3) acres heretofore conveyed to the Seattle and International Railway for right of way purposes." The deed by which the Hilchkanums conveyed lot 2 of their homestead property did not contain an exception for the railroad right of way. The Rasmussens claim that the right of way bisects portions of lots 2, 3, and 5.2

The Railway, and its successor Burlington Northern, built a track on the strip of *1081 land and used the track regularly for rail service until approximately 1996. In 1997, Burlington Northern sold its railway corridor, including the Hilchkanum strip, to The Land Conservancy of Seattle and King County ("TLC").

On June 11, 1997, TLC petitioned the United States Surface Transportation Board ("STB") to abandon use of the corridor for rail service under the National Trail System Act, 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d) ("Rails to Trails Act"). The STB approved interim trail use of the corridor—called railbanking—by King County and issued a Notice of Interim Trail Use. The County then purchased the corridor from the TLC and obtained title to the right of way carved from the Hilchkanum property.<sup>3</sup>

The Rasmussens oppose King County's efforts to railbank the right of way and claim that King County has no right to use the right of way as a trail because the Railway and its successors held only an easement for railroad purposes. As a result, King County brought this action in state court to quiet title and to obtain a declaration of its rights in the strip. The Rasmussens removed the action to federal court and counterclaimed with allegations that King County violated their First, Security in the railbank in the strip.

Fourteenth Amendment rights and violated 16 U.S.C. § 1267(d), 42 U.S.C. § 1983, 28 U.S.C. § 1358, and Article 1, Section 16 of the Washington state constitution.

King County moved for summary judgment on its claim to the property and moved to dismiss the Rasmussens' counter-claims for failure to state a claim and for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. In response to these motions, the Rasmussens filed two over-length briefs and a declaration from Mr. Rasmussen containing several additional pages of legal argument. King County filed its reply and moved to strike the over-length portions of the Rasmussens' briefs and the legal arguments in Mr. Rasmussen's declaration. They also moved to strike inadmissible evidence from the briefs and the declaration. The Rasmussens filed a brief in response to King County's motion to strike as well as a separate surrebuttal brief. King County moved to strike the surrebuttal brief.

In a published opinion, the district court struck the over-length portions of the Rasmussens' response brief as well as the legal arguments in Mr. Rasmussen's declaration. See King County v. Rasmussen, 143 F.Supp.2d 1225, 1227 (W.D.Wash.2001). It also struck a paragraph in the response brief that indicated that Bill Hilchkanum was a Native American and was illiterate; the Rasmussens cited no evidence in support of this assertion in their brief to the district court. Id. at 1227-28. The district court also agreed to strike the surrebuttal brief. Id. at 1228. Finally, it granted King County's motion for summary judgment and dismissed the counterclaims. Id. at 1231. The Rasmussens appeal.

Jurisdiction

[1] The district court had jurisdiction over this removal action if King County *1082 could have brought the case in federal court in the first place. 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a). King County could have brought this action in federal court initially because the district court would have had federal question jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331. King County's complaint included an allegation that it had a legal right to the strip of land in question even if the original deed conveyed only an easement. King County relied on 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d) as the source of this right. Thus, there was a federal question on the face of the well-pleaded complaint. See Patenaude v. Equitable Life Assurance Soc'y of United States, 290 F.3d 1020, 1023

(9th Cir.2002) ("The presence or absence of federal-question jurisdiction is governed by the well-pleaded complaint rule ...." (quoting Caterpillar, Inc. v. Williams, 482 U.S. 386, 392, 107 S.Ct. 2425, 96 L.Ed.2d 318 (1987)) (internal quotation marks omitted)).

This court has appellate jurisdiction over the district court's summary judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1291.

Motions to Strike

[2] The Rasmussens argue that we should consider materials struck by the court below. The district court struck the over-length portions of the Rasmussens' briefs in response to King County's motions for summary judgment and to dismiss the counterclaims. It also struck legal arguments contained in John Rasmussen's declaration as well as the Rasmussens' surrebuttal brief.

The district court struck these materials on the basis of Western District of Washington Local Civil Rule 7, which limits the length of summary judgment briefs to twenty-four pages, limits the length of briefs relating to other motions to eight pages, and makes no allowance for surrebuttal briefs. Parties may file over-length briefs if they obtain prior permission from the court. The Rasmussens violated this rule by filing thirty-four-page briefs without obtaining permission.4 Mr. Rasmussen's declaration added further briefing well beyond the twenty-four-page limit. Declarations, which are supposed to "set forth facts as would be admissible in evidence," should not be used to make an end-run around the page limitations of Rule 7 by including legal arguments outside of the briefs. Fed.R.Civ.P. 56(e). As for the surrebuttal brief, the Rasmussens claim that it merely contained a response to the motion to strike. This is not so. It contains legal arguments on the motion to dismiss the counterclaims. The Rasmussens filed a separate response to the County's motion to strike, which the district court considered. Thus, the district court acted properly in granting King County's motions to strike.

For the most part, however, the fact that this material has been struck will not affect our review. The final pages of the summary judgment response brief do not contain separate legal arguments that are waived because they were not raised in the first twenty-four pages of the brief.

Instead, they contain comparisons between the facts of this case and the facts of a Washington Court of Appeals case dealing with a railroad right of way. We must consider the effect of any case relevant to the arguments raised, regardless of whether the Rasmussens briefed the particular case.

As for the counterclaims, the only claims not addressed in the first twenty-four *1083 pages of the brief opposing Rule 12(b) dismissal are the Rasmussens' takings claims. However, the district court did not consider these claims waived and instead dismissed them for failure to state a claim. Rasmussen, 143 F.Supp.2d at 1231 (disposing of Fifth Amendment and state constitutional takings claims). Thus, we will address all of the Rasmussens' counterclaims.

Summary Judgment

A. Standard of Review

[3] A grant of summary judgment is reviewed de novo. Devereaux v. Abbey, 263 F.3d 1070, 1074 (9th Cir.2001). This court must determine, viewing the evidence in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party, whether there are any genuine issues of material fact and whether the district court correctly applied the relevant substantive law. Id. All reasonable inferences from the evidence must be drawn in favor of the nonmoving party. Orin v. Barclay, 272 F.3d 1207 (9th Cir.2001).

B. Validity of Conveyance Prior to Obtaining Fee Patent <sup>[4]</sup> The Rasmussens claim that Bill Hilchkanum did not have the power to convey anything more than an easement to the Railway because he had not perfected his title to the homestead when he made the conveyance in 1887. Under the Act of March 3, 1873, ch. 266, 17 Stat. 602 (1873),<sup>5</sup> a homesteader could convey a right of way to a railroad before perfecting his title. The use of the term "right of way" in the statute may have limited a homesteader to conveying only an easement, not a fee simple, to a railroad.

However, we need not answer this question to decide this case because Bill Hilchkanum perfected his title to the homestead property in 1884, three years before he conveyed the interest in the strip of land to the Railway in 1887. He entered the subject property in 1876 and took up residence there. The Homestead Act of 1862 provided that he could receive a certificate or patent at the expiration of five years from the date of entry if he provided proof that he had resided or cultivated the land for these five years, that he had not alienated any of the land, and that he had borne true allegiance to the United States. See Homestead Act, ch. 75, 12 Stat. 392 (1862). Bill Hilchkanum submitted the necessary proof and obtained his certificate of ownership in 1884. Since he had fulfilled all the necessary conditions of ownership, his title was perfected in 1884. As a result, he did not need to act within the restrictions of the Act of March 3, 1873 to alienate his property nor did he need to include an after-acquired property clause in his conveyances; he had title free and clear and could convey to the Railway whatever he wished.

Although Hilchkanum did not obtain his patent deed until 1888, the Rasmussens cite no authority suggesting that the certificate of ownership did not perfect his title, *1084 and their own expert opined that Hilchkanum obtained "unqualified and perfect fee simple ownership" in 1884. Graddon Decl. Ex. 1, § 1 at 2. We affirm the district court's conclusion that there are no genuine issues of fact as to whether Hilchkanum had the power to convey a fee simple interest to the Railway in 1887.

C. Easement or Fee Simple

[5] King County claims that under Washington state law the Hilchkanum deed conveyed a fee simple estate in the strip of land to the Railway. The Rasmussens argue that, even if Hilchkanum had the power to convey a fee simple estate to the Railway, he intended to convey only an easement. The district court agreed with King County, as do we.

 $^{[6]}$   $^{[7]}$   $^{[8]}$   $^{[9]}$  A conveyance of a right of way to a railroad may be in fee simple, or it may be an easement. Veach v. Culp, 92 Wash.2d 570, 599 P.2d 526, 527 (Wash.1979). The intent of the parties is of paramount importance in determining what interest the deed conveyed. Brown v. State, 130 Wash.2d 430, 924 P.2d 908, 911 (Wash.1996). It has been said that it is a factual question to determine the intent of the parties. Veach, 599 P.2d at 527. But the intent of parties to a deed as well as the legal consequences of that intent are in reality mixed questions of law and fact: legal rules of deed interpretation determine how the underlying facts reflect the intent of the parties. See Brown, 924 P.2d at 912 (determining intent from undisputed underlying facts on summary judgment). To ascertain the intent of the parties, one must look to the language of the deed a xwibit 23 the circumstances surrounding the deed's execution and the subsequent conduct of the parties. Id. However, the parties must "clearly indicate" an intent to make a conveyance conditional. King County v. Hanson Inv. Co., 34 Wash.2d 112, 208 P.2d 113, 119 (1949) (cited in Brown, 924 P.2d at 912).

[10] The Washington Supreme Court provided its most recent guidance on this issue in Brown. The Brown court identified various factors to consider in determining whether a deed conveyed a fee simple or an easement:

[W]e have relied on the following factors: (1) whether the deed conveyed a strip of land and did not contain additional language relating to the use or purpose to which the land was to be put, or in other ways limiting the estate conveyed; (2) whether the deed conveyed a strip of land and limited its use to a specific purpose; (3) whether the deed conveyed a right of way over a tract of land, rather than a strip thereof; (4) whether the deed granted only the privilege of constructing, operating, or maintaining a railroad over the land; (5) whether the deed contained a clause providing that if the railroad ceased to operate, the land conveyed would revert to the grantor; (6) whether the consideration expressed was substantial or nominal;8 (7) whether the conveyance *1085 did or did not contain a habendum clause, and many other considerations.

Brown, 924 P.2d at 912.

[11] The Brown court further explained that whether the parties to a railroad right of way deed used a statutory form deed is a significant factor in determining their intent. Brown, 924 P.2d at 912; see Roeder Co. v. K & E Moving & Storage Co., 102 Wash.App. 49, 4 P.3d 839, 841 (Wash.Ct.App.2000). The court ruled that "where the original parties utilized the statutory warranty form deed and the granting clauses convey definite strips of land, we must find that the grantors intended to convey fee simple title unless additional language in the deeds clearly and expressly limits or qualifies the interest conveyed." Brown, 924 P.2d at 912.

[12] In this case, however, the Hilchkanum deed did not follow the statutory warranty form. The statutory form is as follows:

The grantor (here insert the name or names and place of residence) for and in consideration of (here insert consideration), in hand paid, convey and warrant to (here insert the grantee's name) the following described real estate (here insert description), situated in the county of _____, state of Washington.

Laws of 1886, § 3, pp. 177–78. The Hilchkanum deed used a slightly different form:

In consideration of (here insert consideration), grantor (here insert name of grantor) does hereby donate grant and convey unto grantee (here insert name of grantee) the following described right of way (here insert description).

As a result, the Hilchkanum deed does not give rise to the presumption that the deed conveyed a fee simple. See Roeder, 4 P.3d at 843; Veach, 599 P.2d at 527 (no presumption that quitclaim deed conveyed fee simple). A failure to use the statutory warranty deed form, however, does not necessarily mean that the parties did not intend to convey a fee simple. The court must consider whether other factors indicate that the parties intended a fee simple.

was if and how the deed uses the term "right of way." The court noted that use of the term in the granting clause as a limitation or to specify the purpose of the grant generally creates only an easement. Brown, 924 P.2d at 913. The term "right of way," however, can have two purposes: "(1) to qualify or limit the interest granted in a deed to the right to pass over a tract of land (an easement), or (2) to describe the strip of land being conveyed to a railroad for the purpose of constructing a railway." Id. at 914.

In Brown, the term "right of way" appeared only in each deed's legal description or in the description of the railroad's obligations, instead of in the granting or habendum clauses. The court concluded that "used in this manner, right of way' merely describes a strip of land acquired *1086 for rail lines." Brown, 924 P.2d at 914. Since the term did not qualify or limit the interest expressly conveyed in the granting and habendum clauses of the deeds at issue, the court concluded it did not indicate an intent to grant an easement only.<sup>10</sup>

Here the term "right of way" appears in the granting clause as well as in the legal description. In this sense, the Hilchkanum deed suggests a possible intent to create only an easement in a way the deeds at issue in Brown did not. However, neither the granting nor the habendum clauses contains language clearly limiting the use of the land to a specific purpose. In virtually all cases where

Washington courts have found only an easement, the granting or the habendum clauses contained such language. See Swan v. O'Leary, 37 Wash.2d 533, 225 P.2d 199, 199 (Wash.1950) (granting premises "for the purpose of a Railroad right-of-way"); Morsbach v. Thurston County, 152 Wash. 562, 278 P. 686, 687 (Wash.1929) (conveying a "right of way for the construction of said company's railroad"); Pacific Iron Works v. Bryant Lumber & Shingle Mill Co., 60 Wash. 502, 111 P. 578 (Wash.1910) (holding that deed providing "to have and to hold the said premises ... for railway purposes, but if it should cease to be used for a railway the said premises shall revert to said grantors" granted easement); Reichenbach v. Washington Short Line Rv. Co., 10 Wash. 357, 38 P. 1126 (Wash.1894) (construing deed which provided "so long as the same shall be used for the operation of a railroad" as an easement); King County v. Squire Inv. Co., 59 Wash.App. 888, 801 P.2d 1022, 1022 (Wash.Ct.App.1990) (granting premises to railroad "so long as said land is used as a right-of-way by said railway Company, Expressly reserving to said grantors their heirs and assigns all their riparian rights ...."). Without such additional language, the use of the term "right of way" merely "begs the question" since a railroad could own a right of way either as an easement or in fee. Brown, 924 P.2d at 914.

The Hilchkanum deed contained precatory language indicating that the parties expected that the right of way would be used to construct and operate a railroad, but it did not actually condition the conveyance on such use. <sup>12</sup> Brown, 924 P.2d at 912–13. Also, in Brown, the court noted that identifying the general purpose of a conveyance, i.e., for railroad purposes, is not helpful in discerning intent because it does not clarify whether the right of way is an easement or a fee. Id. at 913.

One Washington case, Veach, supports the Rasmussens' contention that the mere use of the term "right of way" in the granting clause of the Hilchkanum deed, without additional language conditioning the use of the interest, creates an easement. 599 P.2d at 527. In Veach, the 1901 deed stated:

*1087 The said party of the first part, for and in consideration of the sum of Two Hundred and Twenty-five Dollars, ... do by these presents remise, release, and forever quit claim unto said party of the second part, and to its assigns, all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situated in Whatcom County ... to-wit: "A right of way one hundred feet wide, being fifty feet on each side of the center line of the B.B. & Easter R.R. .... To have and to hold, all and singular, said premises, together with the appurtenances unto the said party of the second part, and to its assigns forever."

Id. Like the Hilchkanum deed, the language in the Veach deed did not expressly limit the use to a particular purpose. However, the district court distinguished Veach on the basis of other language in the Hilchkanum deed and extrinsic evidence indicating an intent to convey a fee simple estate, neither of which was present in Veach. Rasmussen, 143 F.Supp.2d at 1230 n. 4.

First, the district court compared the Hilchkanum deed's language granting an interest in the strip of land with its language granting the Railway the right to enter the adjacent land to cut trees:

The deed grants a "strip" of land described in metes and bounds rather than merely a right "over" the land (as it does with the tree-cutting grant). The deed uses the word "convey" when granting the strip, which is associated with fee transfers (notably, "convey" is absent in the tree-cutting grant). See Hanson, 208 P.2d at 119.

Id. We agree with the district court that these factors indicate that Hilchkanum intended to convey a fee simple interest in the strip of land described. Furthermore, the fact that he explicitly limited the purpose of the Railway's right to enter the adjacent land demonstrates that he was aware of the distinction between an easement and a fee simple conveyance.<sup>13</sup>

[5] The district court also looked to the behavior of the parties after the execution of the deed to the Railway, which bolsters the conclusion that the deed conveyed the right of way in fee. Rasmussen, 143 F.Supp.2d at 1230. Some of the deeds that the Hilchkanums subsequently used to convey the rest of their property explicitly excepted the strip of land belonging to the Railway. The deeds conveyed the surrounding property "less (3) acres right of way of Rail Road." By excepting the right of way in terms of acres of land, the conveyances betray an understanding that the Railway owned the strip of land and did not merely have a right to enter the strip.

The Rasmussens point out that the Hilchkanums did not mention the railroad right of way in the deed conveying lot 2, which is where most of the strip to which the Rasmussens lay claim is located. However, this does not bring into dispute the fact that the Hilchkanums intended a fee simple. Had they used other language in conveying lot 2 that recognized the Railway's right of way as only an easement, then a factual finding reconciling the contradictory positions might be necessary. *1088 But the total failure to except the land subject to the right of way in the lot 2 deed is not significantly probative of whether or not the parties intended to convey a fee simple estate. Addisu v. Fred Meyer, Inc., 198 F.3d 1130, 1134 (9th Cir.2000) (noting that a scintilla of evidence or evidence that is not significantly probative does not present a genuine issue of material fact).

[15] Finally, the district court properly looked to the circumstances surrounding the execution of the Hilchkanum deed and concluded that they confirmed the parties' intent to convey a fee simple estate. Rasmussen, 143 F.Supp.2d at 1230. Deeds to the Railway from other landowners executed in the same year as the Hilchkanum deed used the same form but contained additional language explicitly restricting the grant to railroad purposes and providing that the interest would revert to the grantor if the railroad ceased to operate. See Squire, 801 P.2d at 1023; Northlake Marine Works, Inc. v. City of Seattle, 70 Wash.App. 491, 857 P.2d 283, 286-87 (Wash.Ct.App.1993). The differences in these deeds reflected the common practice of the railroads of using fee simple form deeds and adding language to include limitations requested by landowners. See Danaya C. Wright & Jeffrey M. Hester, Pipes, Wires, and Bicycles: Rails-to-Trails, Utility Licenses, and the Shifting Scope of Railroad Easements From the Nineteenth to the Twenty-First Century, 27 Ecology L.Q. 351, 378 (2000). The deed in question here suggests that the Hilchkanums requested no such limitations.

In conclusion, "[t]he language of the deed, the behavior of the parties, and the circumstances converge to show the Hilchkanums' intent to convey a fee simple." Rasmussen, 143 F.Supp.2d at 1230–31. The underlying facts are undisputed, and, viewing these facts in the light most favorable to the Rasmussens, as we must on summary judgment, we conclude that King County, as the Railway's successor, possesses a fee simple in the strip of land.<sup>14</sup> We, therefore, affirm the district court's summary judgment in favor of King County.

V.

Counterclaims

[16] [17] The district court dismissed all of the Rasmussens' counter-claims either for failure to state a claim under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) or for lack of subject matter jurisdiction under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(1). We review these dismissals de novo, see Zimmerman v. City of Oakland, 255 F.3d 734, 737 (9th Cir.2001) (reviewing 12(b)(6) dismissal de novo); La Reunion Francaise SA v. Barnes, 247 F.3d 1022, 1024 (9th Cir.2001) (reviewing 12(b)(1) dismissal de novo), and we affirm.

A. Takings

[18] The Rasmussens argue that they are entitled to just compensation for the *1089 taking of their land by the government under the state constitution and the Fifth Amendment. See Wash. Const., Art. 1, § 16. Their takings claim requires a finding that the Rasmussens own the strip of land. Because King County owns the strip of land in fee simple, the Rasmussens' land was not taken, and they can state no claim for which relief can be granted.

B. Spur Line Arguments

[19] The Rasmussens argue that King County's title to the right of way is invalid because the STB lacked subject matter jurisdiction to order interim trail use over the railroad right of way. They claim the rail line in question is a spur line over which the STB has no jurisdiction. As the district court wrote, "[b]y challenging the STB proceedings, the Rasmussens are asking the court to reverse an STB order." The courts of appeals have exclusive jurisdiction over any proceeding "to enjoin or suspend, in whole or in part, a rule, regulation, or order of the STB...." 28 U.S.C. § 2321(a); Dave v. Rails—to—Trails Conservancy, 79 F.3d 940, 942 (9th Cir.1996) (finding that district court has no jurisdiction to hear claims that have the practical effect of seeking review of an ICC (now STB) order).

No authority supports the Rasmussens' proposition that, in spite of 28 U.S.C. § 2321, the district court had jurisdiction to consider the subject matter jurisdiction of the STB. The Rasmussens cite Powelson v. United States, 150 F.3d 1103, 1105 (9th Cir.1998), which holds that a statute may create subject matter jurisdiction yet not waive sovereign immunity. They then argue that, because it is not clear whether Congress has waived sovereign immunity of the STB deliberations, there must be subject matter jurisdiction. This argument has no merit. The non-waiver of sovereign immunity does not supply subject matter jurisdiction.

The Rasmussens also rely on 28 U.S.C. § 1336(b), which allows a district court to refer a question or issue to the STB and to exercise "exclusive jurisdiction of a civil action to enforce, enjoin, set aside, annul Exhibite 21dd, in whole or in part, any order of the STB arising out of such referral." This case involves no such referral, and § 1336(b) does not give the district court any power to refer a question that challenges the STB's jurisdiction to issue an order that it has already issued. The STB implicitly has answered this question by asserting jurisdiction over the rail line; judicial review of the order must be obtained directly from a court of appeals as provided by 28 U.S.C. § 2321(a).

C. First Amendment

right to petition the government for redress has been violated because King County refused to communicate with them. In the Rasmussens' Answer and Counterclaim and in their briefing to the district court, the Rasmussens also argued that King County had violated their right to free speech. They argued that a letter from King County officials threatening to bring criminal harassment charges against Mr. Rasmussen constituted an impermissible prior restraint on his ability to say that "he shall defend his life and his property, and that he shall arm himself." The letter apparently arose after Mr. Rasmussen threatened county employees who entered the railroad right of way bisecting his land. The Rasmussens now focus only on their right to petition the government for redress of grievances.

[21] Counties are liable for constitutional violations under § 1983 only if the individual officer who committed the violation was acting pursuant to a local policy, practice or custom. Monell v. Dep't of *1090 Soc. Serv., 436 U.S. 658, 98 S.Ct. 2018, 56 L.Ed.2d 611 (1978). The Rasmussens have failed to allege any local policy, practice or custom here. They attempt no response to this argument in their briefing to this court. The First Amendment claim was properly dismissed for failure to state a claim.

D. Second Amendment

[22] John Rasmussen contends that King County violated his Second Amendment right to bear arms when it obtained an order prohibiting Rasmussen from possessing a gun. This claim must fail for the same reason the First Amendment claim fails—the failure to allege that the violation occurred pursuant to a county custom or practice. Id.

Domain

The Rasmussens argue that they have lost their property right in the railroad right of way without due process of law and that their property has been condemned by the government. They also claim that King County owes them compensation for the wrongful exercise of the federal government's power of eminent domain through the STB. These claims presume that the Rasmussens held a reversionary interest in the right of way because the original deed conveyed only an easement. Because we affirm the district court's holding that the original deed conveyed a fee simple, the Rasmussens have no rights in the subject property on which to base a due process or eminent domain claim. The district court properly dismissed these claims.

F. Violations of Local Ordinances

The Rasmussens contend that King County violated various local ordinances in using the railroad right of way. These claims do not appear in the Rasmussens' Answer, Affirmative Defenses and Counterclaims. The Rasmussens never amended their counterclaims to include these new claims. The district court did not consider them. Neither will we.

VI.

CONCLUSION

We affirm summary judgment in favor of King County because there are no genuine issues of fact that disparage King County's claim to a fee simple estate in the strip of land formerly used as a railroad right of way. Further, the district court properly dismissed the Rasmussens' counterclaims under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b).

AFFIRMED.

Footnotes

- The Honorable Mary H. Murguia, United States District Court Judge for the District of Arizona, sitting by designation.
- To the extent a portion of the right of way bisects lot 5, that portion is not at issue in this quiet title action. King County bases its claim on the Hilchkanum deed conveying a right of way bisecting lots 1, 2, and 3 to the Railway. The County presented no deed conveying a right of way across lot 5 to the Railway.
- The Rasmussens contend that King County has not provided evidence that it has an interest in a significant portion of the strip of land bisecting the Rasmussens' property. They claim that the only evidence provided by the County is a title insurance document that refers solely to the portion of the strip on Government Lot 3; only 3% of the subject strip is on Government Lot 3. However, King County has also provided the quitclaim deed by which TLC transferred its interest to King County. This deed indicates that the portion of the strip on Government Lot 2 was also conveyed; the Rasmussens assert that 96% of the strip lies on Government Lot 2. Thus, King County has submitted undisputed evidence that it has an interest in the subject property.
- 4 The Rasmussens claim that their failure to obtain prior approval to file over-length briefs was due to a miscommunication with the district court's law clerk. However, Rule 7 unambiguously requires prior approval to file briefs exceeding the page limitations set forth in the rule.
- 5 The Act provides that:
  - [A]ny person who has already settled or hereafter may settle on the public lands of the United States, either by pre-emption, or by virtue of the homestead law or any amendments thereto, shall have the right to transfer by warranty, against his or her own acts, any portion of his or her said pre-emption or homestead for church, cemetery, or school purposes, or for the right of way of railroads across such pre-emption or homestead, and the transfer for such public purposes shall in no way vitiate the right to complete and perfect the title to their pre-emptions or homesteads.
  - Act of March 3, 1873, ch. 266, 17 Stat. 602 (1873) (emphasis added). This statute remains on the books, in slightly altered form, at 43 U.S.C. § 174.
- 6 A finding of ambiguity in the language of the deed is not required to consider extrinsic evidence of the surrounding circumstances and the subsequent conduct of the parties. Brown, 924 P.2d at 912; Roeder Co. v. K & E Moving & Storage Co., 102 Wash.App. 49, 4 P.3d 839, 841 (Wash.Ct.App.2000).
- 7 The Brown court examined deeds created from 1906 to 1910.
- 8 The Washington courts in recent years have not given much weight to the amount of consideration in determining the intent of the parties, particularly if the record does not establish the consideration typically paid for easements as opposed to fee simple estates. For example, the Brown court did not give this factor much weight because it could not be ascertained from the record whether the consideration paid for the conveyances represented the value of an easement or a fee simple. Brown, 924 P.2d at 914. Likewise, in Roeder, 4 P.3d at 842, the Washington Court of Appeals noted that the fact that nominal consideration was paid did not reveal much because railroads paid significant amounts for both easements and fee simple purchases. In this case, the Hilchkanums received no monetary consideration for the conveyance to the railroad. However, like the nominal consideration in Roeder, the lack of monetary consideration here reveals little about the Hilchkanums' intent. Both an easement and a fee simple would have had monetary value, but the Hilchkanums declined to require any payment.
- Washington Revised Code § 64.04.030 states that every deed that follows the statutory warranty deed form "shall be deemed and held a conveyance in fee simple to the grantee, his heirs, and assignes...." This rule originated in 1886. Roeder, 4 P.3d at 841 n. 8.
- 10 In a previous case, the Washington Supreme Court had held that the legal description of the interest conveyed is part of the granting clause. Veach, 599 P.2d at 527. But Brown distinguished the language used in the legal description from the language used in the granting clause. Brown, 924 P.2d at 914.
- 11 The Hilchkanum deed is also captioned as a "Right of Way Deed." However, the Brown court rejected the contention that use of the term "right of way" in the caption would preclude a holding that a deed conveyed a fee simple interest. Brown, 924 P.2d at 915. Exhibit 21

- The deed provided: "In consideration of the benefits and advantages to accrue to us from the location construction and operation of the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway in the County of King in Washington Territory, we do hereby donate grant and convey unto said Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway Company a right of way one hundred (100) feet in width through our lands...." DeGoojer Decl. Ex. 1 (emphasis added).
- The Rasmussens provided evidence to the district court that Hilchkanum could not read or write the English language, suggesting that he was not aware of the wording in the deed and its effect. While the district court struck this argument from their response brief, the evidence itself was not struck. We have considered the evidence since it is part of the district court record. Nevertheless, the evidence indicates that Hilchkanum relied on friends in transacting his business. With the help of his friends, he was able to comply with the Homestead Act and make numerous conveyances of property. There is no evidence that his friends did not assist him with the transaction with the Railway such that he understood the deed's language and could reflect his intent therein.
- The Rasmussens argue that the Hilchkanum deed incorrectly describes the boundaries of the right of way on which the railroad tracks lie. This does not alter King County's right to the strip of land in question. According to DD & L, Inc. v. Burgess, 51 Wash.App. 329, 753 P.2d 561, 564 (Wash.Ct.App.1988), "[t]hough the monument referred to in a deed does not actually exist at the time the deed was drafted, but is afterward erected by the parties with the intention that it shall conform to the deed, it will control." The Hilchkanum deed describes the location of the railroad right of way by referring to railroad tracks not yet erected but which were erected with the intention that the location of the tracks would conform to the deed. Thus, the location of the tracks bisecting the Rasmussens' property controls.

v. KING COUNTY, a political subdivision, Respondent.

> No. 50105-4-I. | March 15, 2004.

Synopsis

Background: Landowners, as successors in interest to grantors who conveyed an interest by deed to railway in 1887, brought an action to quiet title against county, as railway's successor in interest, to determine whether the deed conveyed fee title or an easement with regard to a 100-foot-wide strip of land. County counterclaimed, and on cross motions for summary judgment, the Superior Court, King County, Catherine Shaffer, J., quieted title in the county. Landowners appealed.

Holdings: The Court of Appeals, Cox, Acting C.J., held that:

- [1] deed conveyed fee title rather than an easement, and
- the fact that railroad tracks were not placed within area described in deed did not divest railway of the interest conveyed by deed.

Affirmed.

Baker, J., dissented and filed an opinion.

The fact that railroad tracks were not placed within the area described in an 1887 deed conveying a 100-foot-wide right of way strip of land to a railway did not divest the railway of the interest conveyed by that deed; the railroad tracks, as constructed, constituted a monument that the deed referred to as the location of the centerline of the right of way conveyed on the deed, and the monument controlled over the conflicting distance calls in the deed, so that the strip of land conveyed in the deed was centered on the railroad tracks.

Opinion

COX, A.C.J.

This quiet title action presents two questions. First, did an 1887 deed to a railroad convey fee title or an easement? Second, did events subsequent to that conveyance divest the railroad of the interest conveyed by that deed?

We hold that Bill Hilchkanum and Mary Hilchkanum, grantors, conveyed fee title by deed dated May 9, 1887 to the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway ("the Railway"). **185 We also hold that the location of the railroad tracks, as constructed, controls as a monument. Although the legal description of the location of that monument varies from the legal description of the right of way in the May 9, 1887 deed, there was no abandonment that divested the Railway of its fee title interest in the disputed strip. Accordingly, we affirm the summary judgment quieting title in King County, a successor in interest to the Railway. Exhibit 21

*569 The facts are largely undisputed.¹ Gerald and Kathryn Ray own lakefront property near the eastern shore of Lake Sammamish in King County, Washington. The Rays are successors in interest to property formerly owned by Bill Hilchkanum and Mary Hilchkanum, husband and wife. The Rays acquired their interest by virtue of conveyances following the Hilchkanums' May 9, 1887 deed that is the focus of our inquiry in this case.² Likewise, King County is a successor in interest to the estate the Hilchkanums conveyed to the Railway by that deed.³

The basic dispute between the parties centers on their conflicting claims of ownership of the 100-foot-wide strip of land that the Hilchkanums conveyed in their May 9, 1887 deed to the Railway. The strip is adjacent to the property on which the Rays reside.

This strip of land is one segment of the East Lake Sammamish ("ELS") Corridor,<sup>4</sup> which runs near the eastern shore of Lake Sammamish. For most of the last century, the ELS Corridor was known as "Northern Pacific Railroad Right of Way" because Northern Pacific acquired ownership from the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway.<sup>5</sup> Burlington Northern and The Land Conservancy of Seattle were successors in interest to Northern Pacific to the strip and predecessors in interest to King County for that property.<sup>6</sup>

In 1998, the County purchased roughly 11 miles of the ELS Corridor from The Land Conservancy. The purchase *570 included the property the Hilchkanums conveyed in their May 1887 deed.<sup>7</sup>

The Rays argue that the May 9, 1887 deed conveyed an easement only to the Railway, not fee title. They also claim that the subsequent construction of the railway line in early 1888 in a location that varied from the legal description of the right of way set forth in the May 1887 deed constituted an abandonment of the estate conveyed in the deed. For these reasons, they claim title to the strip of land vests in them.

King County disputes the Rays' claim to ownership of the strip. The County maintains that the May 9, 1887 deed, properly construed, conveyed to the Railway an estate in Bill Hilchkanum and wife ) fee title to the strip of land. The County further maintains that subsequent construction of the railway line between January and April 1888<sup>8</sup> established a monument as the centerline of the 100–foot strip described in the deed. Finally, the County argues that it acquired fee title to that 100–foot wide strip of land as a successor in interest to the Railway, the grantee under the May 1887 deed.

The Rays commenced this quiet title action to enforce their ownership claim, and King County counterclaimed to enforce its position. On cross motions for summary judgment, the trial court quieted title in the County, confirming that the May 1887 deed conveyed fee title, not an easement. The trial court further decided that the railroad line, as built, established the monument defining the property the original grantors intended to convey by virtue of the May 1887 deed.

The Rays appeal.

**186 *571 CONVEYANCE: FEE SIMPLE TITLE OR EASEMENT?

[1] [2] [3] [4] Our review of the grant of summary judgment below is governed by the usual standards: whether there are genuine issues of material fact and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. A party seeking to quiet title "must succeed on the strength of his or her own title, not on the weakness of the other party's title. Uhere a deed conveys a right of way to a railroad, the conveyance may be in fee simple or may be an easement only. The interpretation of such a deed is a mixed question of fact and law. It is a factual question to determine the intent of the parties. Courts must then apply the rules of law to determine the legal consequences of that intent. Whether a conveyance is one of fee title or an easement is a conclusion of law as to the effect of a deed.

The Hilchkanum deed is entirely handwritten, and states in relevant part:

**187 In Brown v. State, our supreme court most recently articulated the principles governing resolution of the *573 mixed questions of fact and law before us. There, the court resolved a dispute between property owners abutting the railroad right of way, who claimed reversionary interests in it, and the State, which purchased the right of way from a successor in interest to the original grantees of the strip under some 37 deeds. The deeds, which were dated between 1906 and 1910,<sup>17</sup> were on preprinted forms with blank lines containing handwritten descriptions of the specific properties conveyed.<sup>18</sup> The court ultimately held that the deeds conveyed fee simple title because they were "in statutory warranty form, expressly convey fee simple title, and contain no express or clear limitation or qualification otherwise." <sup>19</sup>

[5] [6] The court began its analysis by noting that the decisions dealing with conveyancing of rights of way to railroads in various jurisdictions "are in considerable disarray" and "turn on a case-by-case examination of each deed." <sup>20</sup> In Washington, the general rule is that when construing a deed, "the intent of the parties is of paramount importance and the court's duty to ascertain and enforce." <sup>21</sup> The court then identified the following factors for determining intent:

(1) whether the deed conveyed a strip of land, and did not contain additional language relating to the use or purpose to which the land was to be put, or in other ways limiting the estate conveyed; (2) whether the deed conveyed a strip of land and limited its use to a specific purpose; (3) whether the deed conveyed a right of way over a tract of land, rather than a strip thereof; (4) whether the deed granted only the privilege of constructing, operating, or maintaining a railroad over the land; (5) whether the deed contained a clause providing that if the railroad ceased to operate, the land conveyed would revert to the grantor; (6) whether the consideration expressed was *574 substantial or nominal; and (7) whether the conveyance did or did not contain a habendum clause, and many other considerations suggested by the language of the particular deed. In addition to the language of the deed, we will also look at the circumstances surrounding the deed's execution and the subsequent conduct of the parties.[22]

The court also noted the special significance that has been accorded the term "right of way" in Washington deeds:

In Roeder, for example, one of the deeds provided, in part, the grantor: "conveys and warrants unto Bellingham and Northern Railway Company ... for all railroad and other right of way purposes, certain tracts and parcels of land...." Recognizing a railroad can hold rights of way in fee simple or as easements, we held the deed granted an easement based on the specifically declared purpose that the grant was a right of way for railroad purposes, and there was no persuasive evidence of intent to the contrary. We reached the same result in Morsbach v. Thurston County, 152 Wash. 562, 564, 278 P. 686 (1929) (deed granted "the right-of-way for the construction of said company's railroad in and over ..."); Swan, 37 Wash.2d at 534, 225 P.2d 199 (granted property "for the purpose of a Railroad right-of-way ..."); Veach, 92 Wash.2d at 572, 599 P.2d 526 (granted "[a] right-of-way one hundred feet wide ..."). See also Reichenbach v. Washington Short-Line Ry. Co., 10 Wash. 357, 358, 38 P. 1126 (1894) ("so long as the same shall be used for the operation of a railroad" **188 construed as granting easement); Pacific Iron Works v. Bryant Lumber & Shingle Mill Co., 60 Wash. 502, 505, 111 P. 578 (1910) (deed providing "to have and to hold the said premises ... for railway purposes, but if it should cease to be used for a railway the said premises shall revert to said grantors" grants easement not determinable fee); King County v. Squire Inv. Co., 59 Wash.App. 888, 890, 801 P.2d 1022 (1990) ("grant and convey ... a right-of-way.... To Have and to Hold ... so long as said land is used as a right-of-way ..." grants easement), review denied, 116 Wash.2d 1021, 811 P.2d 219 (1991).[23]

[7] [8] We begin our analysis of the Hilchkanum deed by determining its form. In Brown, the court emphasized the *575 grantors' use of the statutory warranty form of deed.24 Where such a statutory deed is used and the granting clause conveyed a definite strip of land, the court will conclude that the grantor intended to convey fee simple title unless additional language in the deed clearly and expressly showed otherwise.25

At the time of the May 9, 1887 conveyance, there were three statutory forms of deed: warranty, bargain and sale, and quit claim deed.26 Comparison of the language of the deed, which states in relevant part that the Hilchkanums "hereby donate, grant and convey" their property, with the statute then in effect shows that their deed is not substantially in the form of either a statutory warranty deed or a *576 bargain and sale deed.27 Consequently, no presumption arises that the deed conveyed fee simple title.<sup>28</sup> But, as the Brown court also indicated, determining the form of the deed does not end the analysis of intent.

We next focus on the actual language of the deed. The Rays argue that the Hilchkanum deed did not convey "land," but rather only a "right of way."29 According to the Rays, the use of the latter term "invariably" means the grantors conveyed a mere easement.<sup>30</sup> We disagree.

**189 The granting provisions of the Hilchkanums' deed characterize the conveyed property first as a "right of way one hundred (100) feet in width through " [the Hilchkanums'] lands," and the property conveyed as a "right of way strip." The substance of this language is that the subject of the conveyance is a strip of land, not just the grant of some interest "over" the land, as the Rays state. Language conveying a strip of land suggests a fee, not a mere easement.32

[9] The Rays' argument that the use of the term "right of way" invariably means that only an easement is conveyed is overly simplistic. In Washington, as the Brown court observed, the use of that term as a limitation or to specify the purpose of the grant generally creates only an *577 easement.33 Conversely, where there is no language relating to the purpose of the grant or limiting the estate conveved, and the deed convevs a strip of land, courts will construe the deed to convey fee simple title.34 In Brown, it was undisputed that the railroad had acquired its interest in the property under the deeds for railroad purposes. But significantly, the court went on to state:

Identifying the purpose of the conveyance, however, does not resolve the issue at hand because a railroad can own rights of way in fee simple of the s

Rather than identifying the purpose of the conveyances, we must conduct a deed-by-deed analysis to ascertain whether the parties clearly and expressly limited or qualified the interest granted, considering the express language, the form of the instrument, and the surrounding circumstances. [[35]]

A careful comparison of the express language in the Hilchkanum deed with the language in deeds the courts have examined in other reported cases arising in this jurisdiction reveals few similarities. Only King County v. Squire<sup>36</sup> and King County v. Rasmussen<sup>37</sup> contain language involving a right of way that is substantially similar to that in the deed before us. For the reasons we discuss later in this opinion, Squire is not controlling, merely instructive. And Rasmussen, which construed the same deed now before this court, is consistent with Brown and the analysis and conclusions of this opinion.

*578 In Veach v. Culp,<sup>38</sup> the court construed language in the relevant portion of the deed, but did not consider the full range of factors that the supreme court in Brown later articulated for characterizing the nature of the interest conveyed. Thus, we do not read Veach as broadly as do the Rays.

In short, as the Brown court states, a narrow focus on the term "right of way simply begs the question of what interest [the railroad] acquired, because a railroad can own rights of way in fee simple if that is what the deed conveyed."<sup>39</sup> Recognizing that the use of the term does not end the analysis, we therefore examine further the factors guiding determination of intent so that we may properly characterize the nature of the interest conveyed.

The first few factors stated in Brown require consideration of whether the deed conveyed **190 a strip of land and whether additional language limited the use of the land or the estate conveyed.<sup>40</sup> As we have already observed, the Hilchkanum deed conveyed a strip of land. Whether language in the deed limited the use of the land is the question. The language of the deed grants a right of way to the Railway without expressly restricting how that right of way was to be used.

Turning to the fourth factor, we note that nothing in the language of the Hilchkanum deed limits the grant to the "privilege of constructing, operating, or maintaining a railroad *579 over the land."<sup>41</sup> Rather, the granting clause expressly conveys "a right of way one hundred (100) feet in width through our lands," without any limitations of the type expressed in the fourth factor. This language is most consistent with the grant of fee title, not an easement.

Factor five examines whether or not a reverter clause is contained in the deed.<sup>42</sup> Presumably, the existence of such a clause suggests an easement was intended.<sup>43</sup> Here, there is no reverter clause. Rather, other language in the deed indicates that the conveyance is without any reservation of any estate in the Hilchkanums.<sup>44</sup>

Factor six requires consideration of whether the expressed consideration for the conveyance is substantial or nominal. Here, the Hilchkanums described the consideration as "the benefits and advantages to accrue to us from the location construction and operation of the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway in the County of King, in Washington territory." This statement provides no information on whether the consideration is substantial or nominal. Thus, this factor is neutral.

Factor seven requires consideration of the existence and content of a habendum clause. Here, there is such a clause, which states "To have and to hold the said premises *580 with the appurtenances unto [the Railway] and to its successors and assigns forever." Such clarifying language does not limit the extent of the interest conveyed in the granting clause. Rather, it suggests no limitation—the grant of fee title, not merely an easement.

King County v. Squire Investment Co. illustrates the significance of the language in the habendum clause in determining whether a fee or an easement is granted in a deed conveying a right of way to a railroad. In Squire, the granting clause of the deed granted a "right-of-way Fifty (50) feet in width through said lands," while the habendum clause contained a handwritten addition, "or so long as said land is used as a right-of-way by said railway Company." While noting that the language of the granting clause could be understood to convey either a fee or an easement, this court concluded that the granting clause and habendum clause, read together, suggested that "the 'so long as' language was inserted by Squire to preclude the claim that he conveyed a fee simple to **191 the railroad, particularly since the habendum clause granted the interest to the railroad and 'to its successors and assigns forever'."46

In contrast, the habendum clause of the Hilchkanum deed contains no limiting language. This distinction supports the conclusion that the granting clause conveyed fee title, not, as in Squire, an easement.

Brown recognizes that other considerations suggested by the language of a deed may be helpful in determining whether a conveyance is in fee or merely an easement. The Hilchkanum deed contains such language in the provision following conveyance of the right of way to the Railway:

And the said Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway Company shall have the right to go upon the land adjacent to said line for a distance of two hundred (200) feet on each side thereof and cut down all trees dangerous to the operation of said road.

*581 While the parties dispute the legal effect of this language, neither side appears to disagree that the "right" to go on property adjacent to the right of way to cut trees is an easement, not a fee interest in that adjacent property. 47 We agree that this "dangerous trees" provision conveys an easement—the right to cut trees that endanger the operation of the railway.

Moreover, an easement to cut trees on property adjacent to the right of way is a more limited right than the interest conveyed in the right of way itself—the strip of land. The grant of the interest in the strip was to the land itself, not an interest over the land. The lack of any limitation in the use of the strip starkly contrasts with the more limited right to cut trees only on the property adjacent to the strip. The clear distinction in the extent of rights conveyed supports the conclusion that the grant of the strip of land was in fee, not an easement similar to the more limited right to cut trees on land adjacent to the strip.

We reject as unreasonable the Rays' claim that the apparent overlap in coverage of the two provisions (both are measured from the centerline of the right of way) means that the right of way is merely an easement. This argument is based on the theory that the grant of the right to cut trees is inconsistent with the grant of a fee because the holder of a fee would not need such a grant. But the argument ignores other language in the "dangerous trees" provision that focuses on that right being granted for property adjacent to the right of way.

We turn next to the subsequent conduct of the parties, another factor the Brown court identified as indicative of intent. To the extent any uncertainty remains after consideration of the form and language of the May 1887 Hilchkanum deed, Bill Hilchkanum's exclusion of the right *582 of way from subsequent deeds removes any doubt that the 1887 deed conveyed fee title to the Railway.48

According to the record, the legal description of the Rays' property is:

> That portion of Government Lot 3, Section 6, Township 24 North,

Range 6 East, W.M., in King County, Washington, described as (metes follows: and bounds description) [49]

In 1898, Bill Hilchkanum conveyed to his then wife Annie Hilchkanum "Lot one (1) less three (3) acres right of way of railroad and lot three (3) less three and 25/100 acres right of way of railroad, and all of lot five (5)...."50 Thus, the plain language of the 1898 deed excludes the previously conveyed right of way from the conveyance and explains why ("right of way of railroad"). The 1898 deed therefore clearly indicates that Hilchkanum's intent in 1887 was to convey the right of way to the Railway in fee, not as an easement. And there is no question that this exclusion of the right of way from the **192 1898 deed applied to Lot 3—the property the Rays now own.

Bill Hilchkanum's 1905 conveyance of another portion of Lot 3 to John Hirder provides further support for these conclusions. The deed describes the boundary of the property, in part, as running "thence in a Northeasterly direction along the right of way of the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway."51 Hilchkanum's exclusion of the previously conveyed right of way is consistent both with his exclusion of the same right of way in the 1898 conveyance and the prior conveyance in fee of that same right of way in the May 9, 1887 deed to the Railway. There is no other reasonable explanation for him to have excluded the right of way from subsequent conveyances. Again, there is no *583 doubt that we again deal with Lot 3—the property the Rays now own.

A third conveyance by Hilchkanum is also consistent with the view that he intended to convey fee title to the right of way to the Railway. In 1904, Bill Hilchkanum conveyed to Chris Nelson lot number one, "less three (3) acres heretofore conveyed to the Seattle and International (sic) Railway for right of way purposes."52 Again, there is no indication in this deed that the conveyance was "subject to" the right of way, an indication that the strip of land previously conveyed was an easement. Rather, the right of way is excluded from the conveyance entirely, an indication that the strip of land was previously conveyed in fee.

We are aware that in 1890, Bill Hilchkanum conveyed all of Lot 2 to Julia Curley without any exceptions. 53 But because the 1890 deed contains no reference whatsoever to the right of way, it is not probative of the grantors' intent in the 1887 deed.<sup>54</sup> In any event, Lot 3 is at issue in this appeal, not Lot 2, and the record before us establishes that Hilchkanum was entirely consistent in excluding the right of way and stating that no other-encumbrances affected Lot 3.

In short, the deeds subsequent to the May 1887 deed consistently demonstrate that Hilchkanum conveyed the right of way to the Railway in fee, not as an easement.

The circumstances surrounding the execution of the deed may also affect determination of original intent. The Rays make several arguments based on this factor, none of which is persuasive.

They first argue that Hilchkanum must have intended to convey an easement in the 1887 deed because conveying fee title to a portion of his unpatented homestead claim would have violated federal homestead law. We disagree.

*584 On March 3, 1873, Congress passed a law, codified at Rev. Stat. § 2288, "providing that any bona fide settler might convey by warranty against his own act 'any part of his claim for church, school, and cemetery purposes and for a right of way for railroads.' "55 This statute governs where, as here, the grant of a right of way relates to homestead property.

The Rays argue that the United States Supreme Court's decision in Great Northern Railway Company v. United States<sup>56</sup> is dispositive here. But that decision interpreted a different law, the Act of March 3, 1875, which governed the grant of rights of way **193 across public lands to railroads.<sup>57</sup> Private, not public, lands are at issue here. Thus, the United States Supreme Court's holding in the Great Northern is inapplicable here.

The Rays also cite two Department of the Interior decisions, which they argue support their contention. Again, we disagree.

In the first, South Perry Townsite v. Reed,58 the Department considered whether the term "for the right of way of railroads," as used in section 2288 of the Revised Statutes, limited the size of the right of way that could be granted to the width of the track and cars, or could include "such space *585 as is necessary for side tracks, stock yards, or other purpose incident to the proper business of a railroad as a common carrier."59 This issue has no relevance here.

The second Department of the Interior case, Lawson v. Revnolds. 60 dealt with an agreement by a homestead applicant to allow construction of an electric plant on the land she was claiming as a homestead, before perfection of her entry. The Department concluded that the agreement was "not an alienation of any part of the land, but a mere lease of a portion of the premises and the grant of an easement" and therefore did not bar consummation of her entry. 61 This decision is completely inapposite, and the Rays do not explain how it bolsters their arguments.

We conclude that neither of these decisions by a federal agency, neither of which involved the interpretation of Washington real property law, is helpful in addressing the questions before us.

The Rays also look to a dictionary definition of the term "right of way" to support their claim that the 1887 deed conveyed only an easement, not fee title. As Brown states, a right of way may either be in fee or an easement. 62 Thus. a dictionary definition is neither dispositive nor particularly helpful here. Moreover, that court expressly rejected the argument that use of the term "right of way" in the caption of a deed meant that the conveyance was an easement rather than fee simple.63 Thus, parsing the language either in the body of a deed or its caption and looking to a dictionary for the meaning of such language adds little, if anything, that is useful to the analysis.

*586 The Rays also speculate that the Railway prepared the May 1887 deed.64 Thus, they argue that we should construe ambiguities in that deed language against the Railway. We decline to do so because nothing in the record supports this argument.

First, the face of the deed shows that the Hilchkanums executed the deed by making their marks, not by signing the instrument. Of course, neither party disputes that the Hilchkanums could neither read nor write.65

While we are mindful of the undisputed evidence that the Hilchkanums could neither read nor write, we are unaware of any rule that says that one who cannot do so lacks the capacity to understand the nature and extent of his or her property or the nature of a **194 conveyance of such property. Nothing in the record before us indicates that the Hilchkanums failed to understand what they were doing in this particular transaction, a point counsel for the Rays appeared to concede at oral argument of this case.

[10] Second, and more importantly, examination of the deed shows that it is entirely handwritten, apparently by the same person. Both the language of the main part of the deed, as well as the acknowledgment, is in the handwriting of the notary who acknowledged the signatures of the Hilchkanums, B.J. Tallman. 66 Nothing in the record before us indicates that he was the agent of the Railway. Absent such proof, we fail to see why we should construe ambiguities in the May 1887 deed against the Railway. Rather, to the extent we were to engage in applying a rule of construction to any perceived ambiguities in the language of the *587 Hilchkanum deed, we would construe the deed against the Hilchkanums, the grantors.<sup>67</sup>

Third, the Rays also rely on the opinions of expert witnesses to support their position. Because courts decide the legal questions before us, not experts, we decline to give credence to these opinions. Moreover, none of the designated experts to whom the Rays point has addressed the effect of the language in the very deed by which the Rays acquired title to their property:

That portion of Government Lot 3, Section 6, Township 24 North, Range 6 East, W.M., in King County, Washington, described as follows:

Beginning on the shore of Lake Sammamish at the northwest corner of a tract of land conveyed to W.C. Dahl by Henry M. Johnson by deed dated October 6, 1931, and recorded in Volume 1588 of Deeds, page 137, under King County Recording No. 2808278, records of King County, Washington; thence running southerly along the shore line of Lake Sammamish, a distance of 300 feet to the true point of beginning; thence southerly along said shoreline of Lake Sammamish, a distance of 125 feet;

thence east to the westerly right of way of East Lake Sammamish Place S.E. (formerly Redmond Issaquah Road);

thence northerly along said right of way to a point due east of the true point of beginning; thence due west to the true point of beginning;

EXCEPT the Northern Pacific Railway Company's right of way. [69]

*588 The term "except" is generally meant to exclude the described property. Here, the deed excludes the right of way at issue in this case, another indication that a successor in interest to the Hilchkanums believed that the right of way previously conveyed to the Railway was not part of the fee conveyed to the Rays. For these reasons, we do not rely on expert opinion to decide the questions before us. The same transfer of the fee conveyed to the Rays.

**195 The Rays also rely on a recent Division III case of this court, Hanson Industries, Inc. v. Spokane County.<sup>72</sup> In Hanson, the court held that a series of 1903 and 1904 deeds conveying a right of way to a railroad and granted an easement rather than a fee simple estate. But Hanson is of little utility here beyond its reiteration of the principles stated in Brown.

First, as our supreme court explained in Brown, the language of the deed under scrutiny is of primary importance in determining the intent of the parties, and the cases turn on a case-by-case examination of such language. The Hanson court quoted little of the language of the deeds it examined. Thus, we cannot meaningfully compare the language of those deeds with the Hilchkanum deed.

Second, it is apparent from the court's analysis that the deeds in Hanson contained language conditioning the conveyances on the construction and operation of a railroad *589 within two years, imposing obligations on the railroad to construct and maintain farm crossings, and releasing the railroad from liability for damages caused by railroad construction.<sup>73</sup> In addition, unlike the Hilchkanum deed, the Hanson deeds did not describe the right of way in metes and bounds.<sup>74</sup> The Hanson court found the foregoing factors to be significant in its determination that the deeds conveyed an easement. The Hilchkanum deed contains no comparable language.

Finally, as we explained above, we find the contrast between the language in the Hilchkanum deed conveying the right of way and the language conveying the right to cut dangerous trees on land adjacent to the right of way to be compelling evidence that the first conveyed a fee interest and the second an easement. The court in Hanson did not discuss any similar provisions in the deeds it examined, and we presume none existed. In addition, we concluded that Bill Hilchkanum's subsequent conduct, in expressly excluding the right of way in subsequent deeds, demonstrated his intent and understanding of the May 1887 deed as a grant of a fee interest in the right of way, not an easement. The subsequent conduct of the parties in Hanson did not include any analogous acts.<sup>75</sup>

In sum, Hanson provides no support for the Rays' claim that the Hilchkanums' 1887 deed conveyed an easement rather than a fee simple estate.

In King County v. Rasmussen, 76 the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals considered the very deed that is presently before us. There, King County sued to quiet title to a 100–foot–wide strip of land that bisected John and Nancy Rasmussen's property and to obtain a declaration of its rights to use the right of way for a public trail. After applying the Brown factors, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals concluded that *590 the May 1887 deed conveyed fee title, not an easement, to the Railway. Our conclusion that the conveyance of the right of way in 1887 was in fee is consistent with the reasoning and conclusions in Rasmussen.

ABANDONMENT

<sup>[12]</sup> Finally, the Rays argue that the deed cannot be understood to grant a right of way 100 feet wide in the location where the railroad was actually constructed because the actual location of the railroad is not the location described by the course and distance calls in the deed. Again, we disagree.

Here, the parties stipulated that the location of the railroad tracks, as constructed, "is **196 not within the area described by the distance call stated in the Hilchkanum deed." Mike Foley, a Senior Engineer for the King County Department of Transportation, attempted to determine the location of the centerline of the right of way as described in the deed. Because the deed was difficult to read, Foley surveyed the route using three different positions. In each of these surveys, the centerline did not match the actual centerline of the tracks, as constructed. The distances between the test centerlines and the actual centerline were 119, 25, and 5 feet. The majority of the first of these three centerlines, at 119 feet from the actual centerline, would be located in Lake Sammamish.

[13] [14] The County argues that the railroad tracks, as constructed, constitute a "monument" that determines the location of the property, which supercedes the course and distance calls outlined in the deed. "The term 'monument' means a permanent natural or artificial object on the ground which helps establish the location of the boundary *591 line called for." If the description in a deed of the land is fixed by "ascertainable monuments and by courses and distances, the well-settled general rule is that the monuments will control the courses and distances if they be inconsistent with the monument calls."

This court considered this question in DD & L, Inc. v. Burgess. In that case, a dispute arose regarding the location of the northern boundary of a railroad right of way. The deed in that case described the location of the right of way as follows:

A strip of land 100 feet in width, having 50 feet of such width on each side of the center line of the main track of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railway Company, as the same is now surveyed, staked out and established ...; said center line being more particularly described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a point in the east line of said section 1, 1731.7 feet south 0 51' east of the northeast corner thereof ... [82]

Based on testimony by surveyors, the trial court found that the centerline of the railroad tracks, as constructed, was 17 feet from the distance call recited in the 1912 deed. We held that the law and evidence supported the trial court's conclusion that the track, as built, was the monument intended for locating the boundary established by the 1912 deed, and that, because the track location conflicted with the distance calls in the 1912 deed, and because monuments control over distance calls, a survey based exclusively on the calls and distances was erroneous. 44

In this case, the railroad tracks, as constructed, constitute a monument that the deed refers to as the location of *592 the centerline of the right of way conveyed in the deed. 85 The description of the location of the right of way in this case is similar to that considered in DD & L:

Such right of way strip to be fifty (50) feet in width on each side of the center line of the railway track as located across our said lands ... which location is described as follows to wit [legal description] [86]

**197 Because the location of this monument conflicts with the distance calls in the deed, and because the monument controls over the distance calls, we hold that the strip of land conveyed in this deed is centered on the railroad tracks, as constructed.

The Rays argue that this case is distinguishable because the tracks in this case were built after the deed was signed. It appears from the language of the deed in DD & L that the tracks in that case were at least staked out when the deed was written. But this distinction is immaterial. As we noted in that case, "[t]hough the monument referred to in a deed does not actually exist at the time the deed was drafted, but is afterward erected by the parties with the intention that it shall conform to the deed, it will control." The Rays cite no authority to the contrary. Nor do they claim any evidence of intent by the parties to place the tracks in Lake Sammamish, an unreasonable result.

The Rays argue that a Kansas case, Aladdin Petroleum Corp. v. Gold Crown Properties, Inc., 88 and other cases that *593 have relied on Aladdin Petroleum, support their position. 89 But these cases are entirely inapposite. Each of these cases considered the scope of the use of a right of way easement, not the location of property transferred in Exhibit 21 fee simple by a deed. The rule quoted by the Rays, read in the contexts of these cases, is of no use to us here.

To summarize, application of the factors stated and applied by our supreme court in Brown supports the conclusion that the intent of the Hilchkanums and the Railway in May 1887 was to convey a fee simple interest in the strip of land right of way, not an easement. Moreover, the actual placement of the railroad tracks controls as a monument to determine the location of the right of way. Thus, the Railway did not abandon the right of way described in the deed. The trial court properly concluded that fee title vests in King County.

We affirm the summary judgment quieting title in King County.

SCHINDLER, J., concurs.

BAKER, J. (dissenting).

The majority concludes that the 1887 right of way deed between Bill Hilchkanum and Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway conveyed fee title. For a number of reasons I disagree, and conclude that the deed only conveyed an easement.

First, contrary to the majority's conclusion, the evidence establishes that the handwritten deed was drafted by the railroad, and must therefore be construed against it. As King County concedes, Hilchkanum did not write the deed. Extrinsic evidence also supports concluding that the deed must be construed against the railroad. The language contained in the handwritten deed is identical to language used on pre-printed forms produced by the railroad. Hilchkanum's attorney, who signed as a witness, was an *594 owner of the railroad. The Rays also provided an affidavit from their expert opining that the deed was drafted by the railroad.

The majority also mistakenly concludes that the Hilchkanum deed conveyed a strip of land. But the deed expressly states that "we do hereby donate grant and convey ... a right of way one hundred (100) feet in width through our lands...." The term "right of way strip" is found only in the legal description, not in the granting provision.

The majority points to certain subsequent conduct by Hilchkanum to support its conclusion that he intended to convey fee title to the railroad. But these subsequent conveyances only establish that Hilchkanum understood that the railway had a right of way across his lands. The majority ignores other **198 conveyances by Hilchkanum which indicate that he only intended to convey an easement to the railroad.

When the language of the deed is properly construed against the railroad, the granting clause conveys only a right of way.

Language in the deed must be construed against the railroad

It is a well established principle that ambiguity must be construed against the grantor.2 But as we explained in Harris v. Ski Park Farms, Inc.,3 when the grantee drafts the deed, this rule does not apply.4 Hilchkanum was illiterate and the handwritten deed contained identical *595 language to that found in a contemporaneous pre-printed deed bearing the railroad's name. The Rays also submitted an affidavit from an expert who opined that "given the use of pre-printed deeds, and given Hilchkanum's illiteracy, there appears no doubt that Hilchkanum did not draft the deed; but rather, it was the product of the railroad company."

The majority states that because Hilchkanum must have understood the nature and extent of his conveyance, the fact that the deed was handwritten by someone else is of no consequence. And the majority holds that because there is nothing in the record indicating that the drafter was an agent of the railway, Hilchkanum must have been the drafter. This conclusion wrongly focuses on the identity of the grantor instead of the identity of the drafter of the deed. It is undisputed that the deed's language was taken from the railroad's standard deed. And the affidavit by the Rays' expert creates a material question of fact concerning who actually drafted the document. Taking this affidavit in a light most favorable to the Rays as the nonmoving party, any ambiguities in the deed must be construed against the railroad.5

Hilchkanum's use of the term "right of way" granted only an easement

Washington courts have given special significance to the words "right of way" in railroad deeds, explaining that the term "right of way" generally creates only an easement when used "as a limitation or to specify the phiposop of the grant." In fact, most Washington cases have construed *596 " right of way" language in such instruments as granting only an easement to the railroad.<sup>7</sup>

**199 The majority discounts Veach v. Culp<sup>8</sup> because it did not consider the full range of factors later articulated in Brown v. State.<sup>9</sup> But Brown cites Veach with approval. The majority's selective reading of our Supreme Court's precedent is unsupported by the Brown decision.

Veach clarified the rule set forth in the earlier case of Morsbach v. Thurston County,<sup>10</sup> that merely using the term "right of way" in a granting clause is enough to establish that the original grantor intended only to convey an easement.<sup>11</sup> In Brown, our Supreme Court explained this holding by stating that a "deed in statutory form grants [an] easement where additional language in the deed expressly and clearly limits or qualifies the interest granted."<sup>12</sup> *597 Conversely, when the deed contains no language relating to the purpose of the grant or limiting the estate conveyed, and it conveys a definite strip of land, the deed will be construed to convey fee simple title.<sup>13</sup> Here, Hilchkanum did explain the purpose of the grant ("the location construction and operation of the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway") and limited the estate conveyed ("we do hereby donate grant and convey ... a right of way").

The majority opinion extensively analyzes various factors discussed in Brown, and concludes that conveyance of fee simple title was Hilchkanum's intent. But in Brown, the court analyzed prior case law and noted that "use of the term 'right of way' as a limitation or to specify the purpose of the grant generally creates only an easement."14 That term is used in the deed in question, both in its title and in its granting clause. In contrast, the deeds considered in Brown expressly conveyed fee title to definite strips of land. No such language appears in the Hilchkanum deed's granting clause. Further, although the deed does not explicitly limit the grant to railroad purposes, the consideration recited immediately above the right of way grant does state that to be the purpose of the deed. The majority ignores this language when concluding that there is nothing in the deed limiting the grant to operating a railroad.15

For example, in Swan v. O'Leary, <sup>16</sup> the deed stated that the conveyance was "for the purpose of a Railroad." And in Morsbach, the deed explained that the right of way was "for the construction of said company's railroad." Here, although there are no explicit words limiting the right of *598 way to railroad use, the Hilchkanum deed does explain that the purpose of the grant was for "the location construction and operation of the Seattle Lake Shore and Eastern Railway."

A reversionary clause in not necessary to convey only an easement

The majority places great emphasis on the absence of a reversionary clause in the subject deed. But a railroad right of way deed need not contain a reverter clause to effect an automatic reversion to the grantor upon abandonment.<sup>19</sup> As Hanson Industries, Inc. **200 v. County of Spokane<sup>20</sup> notes, railroad rights of way expire automatically upon abandonment.21 And in Veach, our Supreme Court found that a railroad owned only an easement, despite the absence of a limiting or reversionary clause.<sup>22</sup> The Veach court explained that language intending to limit the grant was only "one element in examining the whole of the deed."23 Instead, the court focused on the use of "right of way" in the granting clause, and concluded that the original grantor intended to limit the right of way to only an easement.24 In King County v. Squire Inv. Co,25 we noted that the phrase "so long as" in the habendum arguably suggested conveyance of a fee simple determinable.26 But because language in the granting clause strongly suggested conveyance of an easement, we concluded that Squire had *599 instead inserted this language to clarify that he was granting an easement.27

And in Hanson Industries, Division Three also found an easement despite the absence of a limiting or reversionary clause.<sup>28</sup> As a recent article explains, a reversionary clause is not necessary to conclude that the landowner only granted an easement:

If a railroad acquired a perpetual or general easement, then the easement exists in perpetuity, regardless of whether or not the company operates a railroad on the land. These rare perpetual or general easements are found only where no language in the grant specifies the type of use the railroad may make of the land.<sup>[29]</sup>

It is clear that the Hilchkanum deed did not include a reversionary clause. But contrary to the majority's interpretation of the Brown decision, this does not necessarily mean that Hilchkanum intended to convey fee title.<sup>30</sup> As Wright and Hester explain, the fact that a grantor (Hilchkanum) did not limit the right of way to railroad use may only serve to make the grant an unconditional easement.<sup>31</sup>

Absence of exceptions or reservations is indicative of intent to grant an easement

Another important factor in the Brown deeds was the presence of reservations by the grantors. The court found *600 these significant in establishing that the railroad had obtained fee simple title, because had the railroad only obtained an easement, the grantors would not have needed to explicitly reserve access crossings and irrigation ditches:

> Several of the deeds reserve or except the right of the grantor to make some use of the land conveyed.... The reservation or exception of mineral or irrigation rights is consistent with the conveyance of a fee; it would not have been necessary to reserve such rights had the parties intended an easement because the grantors would have **201 retained use of the land. Similarly, the obligation to construct or maintain farm crossings or irrigation channels is consistent with the conveyance of fee simple title. These provisions secure easements to the grantors across the land conveyed to Milwaukee, and probably would unnecessary have been Milwaukee only held the rights of way as easements.[32]

The Hilchkanums made no exceptions in their deed even though the granted right of way bisected their land. The majority fails to acknowledge that this factor supports concluding that Hilchkanum only granted an easement.

Language in Hilchkanum's deed conveying the right to cut dangerous trees is not evidence that Hilchkanum intended to grant fee title

The majority also holds that the "dangerous trees" easement supports concluding that the right of way deed granted fee title because the easement grant is more limited than the right of way grant in the same deed. Specifically, the deed grants the railway the right to "go upon the land adjacent to said line ... and cut down" dangerous trees within 200 feet of the centerline of the track.

But railroad corporations were prohibited appropriating rights of way wider than 200 feet.<sup>33</sup> The railroad's right to cut trees extended outside of the right of way area *601 allowed by the territorial code because the easement allowing the railroad the right to cut trees was distinct from its right of way. This secondary access grant was not exclusive, as the right of way was, and terminated if the railroad use terminated, whereas the railroad right of way was exclusive and akin to a street right of way.

Subsequent behavior by the parties is inconclusive to show intent

The majority also concludes that subsequent behavior by the parties supports a conclusion that the deed conveyed fee title.34 The majority focuses on three subsequent deeds that acknowledge the presence of the railroad right of way, while ignoring an earlier deed that does not make any such reservations. The majority justifies this by explaining that Hilchkanum's failure to reserve the right of way is not probative of whether or not the parties intended to convey a fee simple estate.35 But we should not selectively emphasize Hilchkanum's subsequent conveyances. Instead, we should conclude that the subsequent behavior of the parties does not aid our inquiry because it does not conclusively show that Hilchkanum intended to convey either an easement or fee title.

Moreover, Hilchkanum granted the deed omitting reference to the right of way in 1890, just three years after granting the railway right of way. The deeds that the majority focuses on were granted much later—Hilchkanum's grant to his wife was 11 years after the railway grant, and the other two several years after that. *602 While this is not conclusive evidence of Hilchkanum's intent, it is interesting that the deed closest in time to the subject conveyance omitted any reference to the railroad right of way. If that right of way was owned in fee by the railroad, the omission was strange indeed.

The majority concludes that the three later deeds show that Hilchkanum intended to convey the right of way as fee, and not as an easement. But if Hilchkanum had conveyed a fee to the railroad, he would not have used the term "right of way" and instead would **202 have simply indicated that the land itself was previously conveyed to the railroad.

The second deed that the majority relies upon also uses the term "right of way," but as a point of reference forming one border of the property. Use of the term "right of way" in this manner has no bearing on whether Hilchkanum believed he had conveyed the believed he had conveyed he had con fee.

As with street easements, although the abutting owner might refer to the boundary as the adjacent street, this does not necessarily mean that the abutting owner does not also own to the centerline of the street. Because railroad easements—like street easements—are exclusive, referencing them in the deed as a right of way does not establish that the owner transferred fee title to the railroad.

I acknowledge that in King County v. Rasmussen,36 a federal district court interpreted the Hilchkanum deed and held that it conveyed fee simple title to the right of way.<sup>37</sup> On appeal, the Ninth Circuit recognized that the term "right of way" appeared in the Hilchkanum deed's granting clause as well as in the legal description. But the court did not find the phrase determinative of intent, because the language did not clearly limit the use of the land to a specific purpose.<sup>38</sup> The court went on to explain that in "virtually all cases" finding that the term "right of way" only *603 granted an easement, the granting or habendum clause contained language clearly limiting the use of the land to a specific purpose.39 The court concluded that Hilchkanum's deed did not restrict the conveyance by designating a specific purpose, limiting use of the land, or adding a reversionary clause.40 Noticeably absent from the court's discussion on this issue was any reference to Veach.

On appeal, the Ninth Circuit distinguished Veach on the basis of (1) other language in the Hilchkanum deed and (2) extrinsic evidence indicating an intent to convey a fee simple estate, neither of which was present in Veach. <sup>41</sup> For reasons discussed above, I disagree with the Rasmussen court's analysis.

Conclusion

Use of the term "right of way" in the granting clause of the Hilchkanum deed did not conclusively establish that Hilchkanum only granted the railroad an easement. But because Washington courts give great weight to the term "right of way" when it is used in the granting clause, and nothing else establishes that Hilchkanum instead intended to grant the railroad fee title, I conclude that the conveyance granted only an easement. I therefore dissent.

See Reichenbach v. Washington Short-Line Ry. Co., 10 Wash. 357, 358-360, 38 P. 1126 (1894) (construing a conveyance in the form of a bargain and sale deed as conveying an easement, not fee title). No case holds that a defeasible fee was intended.

That warranty deeds for the conveyance of land, may be substantially in the following form: The grantor ... for and in consideration of ... in hand paid, convey and warrant to ... the following described real estate.... Every deed in substance in the above form, when otherwise duly executed, shall be deemed and held a conveyance in fee simple to the grantee, his heirs and assigns, ...
  - SEC. 4. Bargain and sale deeds for the conveyance of land may be substantially in the following form: The grantor ... for (and) in consideration of ... in hand paid, bargain, sell and convey to ... the following described real estate.... Every deed in substance in the above form shall convey to the grantee, his heirs or other legal representatives and estate of inheritance in fee simple, ....
  - SEC. 5. Quit-claim deeds may be in substance in the following form: The grantor ... for the consideration ... convey and quit-claim to ... all interest in the following described real estate.... Every deed in substance in form prescribed in this section, when otherwise duly executed, shall be deemed and held a good and sufficient conveyance, release and quit-claim to the grantee, his heirs and assigns in fee of all the then existing legal or equitable rights of the grantor, in the premises therein described, but shall not extend to the after acquired title unless words are added expressing such intention. (emphasis added).

- See Brown, 130 Wash.2d at 437, 924 P.2d 908. The Hilchkanum deed contains neither the language nor the warranties of the statutory warranty or bargain and sale form of deeds. Arguably, this conveyance is substantially in the form of a quit claim deed, the third form of statutory deed existing at the time of the conveyance. We note that all three forms of statutory deed convey fee title according to the plain words of the governing statute. Nevertheless, the case authority indicates that the form of conveyance is but one of many factors in analyzing instruments like the one before us.

- We note that the Rays characterize Bill Hilchkanum as "a Native American who could not read or write." Appellants' Opening Brief at 16. They also state in their brief that he was "an illiterate Native American." Id. at 26. The use of the term "Native American" in these characterizations adds nothing that is analytically useful. To the extent that the Rays imply something more than his illiteracy by the use of the term, such implication is improper.

- The dissent appears to rely on an expert opinion by Stephen J. Graddon to support the view that the Railway drafted the deed and that we should construe ambiguities in that deed against the railroad. Dissent at 198. Graddon opines that the railroad drafted the deed because, among other things, the deed's language tracks language in other railroad deeds, a witness signing the deed was associated with the Railway, and Hilchkanum was illiterate. Clerk's Papers at 233–34. No one disputes that Hilchkanum could not have drafted the deed. But neither Graddon's declaration nor anything else in the record before us contests that B.J. Tallman, the notary who acknowledged the deed, drafted it. Likewise, nothing in the record shows that he did so at the direction of the Railway. Neither the status of a witness to the deed nor the alleged similarity in language with other deeds fills this gap. Thus, Graddon's declaration fails either to create a presumption that the Railway drafted the deed or to create a material issue of fact precluding summary judgment.

COUGHENOUR, District Judge.

This matter has come before the Court on Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment (Dkt. No. 24), Intervenor–Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment (Dkt. No. 39), and Defendant's Cross Motion for Summary Judgment (Dkt. No. 41). The Court has considered the papers submitted by the parties in support of and in opposition to the motions and determined that oral argument is not necessary. For the reasons set forth in this Order, Plaintiffs' Motion is hereby GRANTED, Intervenor–Defendant's Motion is hereby DENIED, and Defendant's Cross Motion is likewise DENIED.

I. BACKGROUND

This action concerns the development of a recreational trail along a seven-mile section of the former Burlington Northern Santa Fe railroad right-of-way that runs along the east shore of Lake Sammamish. Plaintiffs, the non-profit organizations Friends of the East Lake Sammamish Trail ("Friends") and the Cascade Land Conservancy ("CLC"), and Robert and Bente Pasko, residents of the City of Sammamish and members of Friends, support development of the Exhibit 21 East Lake Sammamish Tsail-pantiled and Bente Pasko, residents of-way. Defendant City of Sammamish Intervenor-Defendant East Lake and Sammamish Community Association ("ELSCA"), an association of Sammamish residents, many of whom reside along the east shore of Lake Sammamish along the former railbed, (hereinafter collectively "Defendants") contest development of the trail. On September 11, 2003, Plaintiffs instant action, filed the challenging the constitutionality of the "practical alternative" prong of Interim Sammamish Development Code § 21A.24.070 and the identical Sammamish Municipal Code §  $21A.50.070(2)(a)^{2}$  by arguing that it is preempted by the National Trails Systems Act, 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d).

II. FACTS

In the late 1880s the Seattle Lake Shore & Eastern Railroad built a rail line from Issaquah north along the east shore of Lake Sammamish to Woodinville. The line. known as the Issaquah spur, eventually became part of the Burlington Northern/ Santa Fe Railroad ("BNSF") system. In 1996, BNSF ceased operations on its tracks through the East Lake Sammamish corridor and a year later CLC acquired BNSF's interests in the railbed by quit \*1266 claim deed. CLC commenced Surface Transportation Board ("STB") proceedings to railbank $\frac{3}{2}$  the right-of-way. The STB issued its Notice of Interim Trail Use  $("NITU")^{\frac{4}{}}$  in September 1998. The NITU Decision provides in relevant part that "[i]f an agreement for interim trail use/ railbanking is reached by the 180th day after service of this decision and notice, interim trail use may be implemented." (Ex. 1 to Roberts Decl. in Supp. of Pls.' Mot. for Summ. J. ("Roberts Decl.").) CLC then quit claimed its interests in 10.9 miles of the railbanked railbed to King County on September 18, 1998. On December 15, 2000, the King County Council unanimously adopted an ordinance and appropriated funds for development of a soft surface trail on the railbanked East Lake Sammamish right-of-way.

King County then applied to the cities of Issaquah, Redmond, and Sammamish for land use permits to construct a gravel trail on the existing crushed rock surface of the rail corridor. On May 7, 1999, King County filed a grading permit application for its trail. Since parts of the proposed trail would pass through areas classified as "wetland" and "wetland buffer" under SMC ch. 21A.50, King County had to apply for a Public Agency Utility Exception ("PAUE") to proceed with the trail's development. The Sammamish PAUE ordinance does not permit destruction or alteration of sensitive areas for public agency and utility projects unless it is shown that there is no practical alternative with less impact to sensitive areas:

The Department shall review the [PAUE] application based upon the following criteria: (a) there is no other practical alternative to the proposed development with less impact on the sensitive area; and (b) the proposal

SSDP2016-00415 001760 minimizes the impact on sensitive areas.

SMC § 21A.50.070.

King County filed a PAUE application with the City of Sammamish on April 13, 2001. On April 12, 2002, the City of Sammamish Planning Director issued an initial City decision on the PAUE application, authorizing King County to pour a new gravel surface on the railbed, and requiring King County to offset and mitigate the loss of wetland buffer by preserving and enhancing other wetland areas within the railroad right-of-way. ELSCA appealed the City's decision, and King County and Mark Cross and Bente Pasko (both members of Friends) filed their own cross-appeals.

The City of Sammamish appointed a pro tem hearing examiner to conduct the appeal. On April 24, 2003, following discovery and a seven-day trial on the appeals, the hearing examiner issued his decision reversing the City's decision and denying the requested PAUE based on his findings and conclusions that practical alternatives existed with fewer impacts on protected environmentally sensitive areas than would *1267 occur with the County's proposed railbed-only trail alignment.

King County and ELSCA appealed the hearing examiner's decision to the Snohomish County Superior Court. On March 16, 2004, the court reversed certain elements of the PAUE decision and remanded the case to the City for further proceedings. It appears that the case is still pending before the City. Of note is the Superior Court's finding that King County was precluded from raising the issue of federal preemption because it had failed to raise the issue before the hearing examiner. Despite this finding the court went on to find that even if the issue could be raised, the argument would fail as there is no federal preemption.

The PAUE for which King County applied would authorize only construction of a soft surface trail on the East Lake Sammamish rail corridor. The County is currently planning for a permanent paved trail to replace the interim trail. Should the County apply to build the permanent trail on the railbanked right-of-way, all parties to this litigation agree that the permanent trail will require another PAUE from the City of Sammamish that satisfies the requirements of SMC § 21A.50.070. Thus, this issue is still ripe for review.

As of April 2004, the soft surface East Lake Sammamish Trail was completed and open to the public in Redmond, Issaquah and unincorporated King County. The middle seven miles through Sammamish, however, remained closed.

III. ANALYSIS

Currently before the Court is Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment, which argues that the federal railbanking statute, 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d), and the STB Order which authorized King County to develop an interim trail on the inactive railroad right-of-way, preempt the application of the "practical country" 001761 prong of SMC § 21A.50.070(2)(a) to any railbanked railroad right-of-way. Defendant City of Sammamish filed a Cross Motion for Summary Judgment, countering that Plaintiffs lack standing to bring this claim. Intervenor-Defendant ELSCA also sets forth multiple grounds for summary judgment against Plaintiffs in its own Motion for Summary Judgment, including Plaintiffs' failure to join an indispensable party (King County), failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, and failure to exhaust administrative remedies. Alternatively, ELSCA proposes that the Pullman abstention doctrine dictates that this Court abstain from deciding the federal preemption issue set forth in Plaintiffs' Complaint. The Court will address Defendants' procedural and jurisdictional arguments first. 6

A. Summary Judgment

Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure governs summary judgment motions, and provides in relevant part, that "[t]he judgment sought shall be rendered forthwith if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue of material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law." Fed.R.Civ.P. 56(c). In determining whether an issue of fact exists, the court must view all evidence *1268 in the light most favorable to the non-moving party and draw all reasonable inferences in that party's favor. Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248–50, 106 S.Ct. 2505, 91 L.Ed.2d 202 (1986); Bagdadi v. Nazar, 84 F.3d 1194, 1197 (9th Cir.1996). A genuine issue of material fact exists where there is sufficient evidence for a reasonable fact-finder to find for the non-moving party. Anderson, 477 U.S. at 248, 106 S.Ct. 2505. The moving party bears the burden of showing that there is no evidence which supports an element essential to the non-movant's claim. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 322, 106 S.Ct. 2548, 91 L.Ed.2d 265 (1986). The parties all assert that there are no material facts at issue, thus this matter is particularly well suited for decision by summary judgment. The Court agrees.

B. Standing

[1] Defendants challenge Plaintiffs' standing to bring this action by characterizing their interest as a mere desire for speedier construction of a recreational trail, and by arguing that Plaintiffs cannot demonstrate that they have suffered an injury to a legally protected interest. Defendants further argue that prudential limitations bar Plaintiffs' suit.

[2] [3] A showing of standing is an essential predicate to federal jurisdiction. Florida Audubon Soc'y v. Bentsen, 94 F.3d 658, 663 (D.C.Cir.1996). The Plaintiffs in this case, as the parties asserting federal jurisdiction, have the burden of establishing the elements of standing. Los Angeles County Bar Ass'n v. Eu, 979 F.2d 697, 701 (9th Cir.1992). "To meet this burden, the litigant must clearly and specifically set forth facts sufficient to satisfy those Article III standing requirements." Whitmore v. Arkansas, 495 U.S. 149, 155–56, 110 SEGR20167d6415109

the (1) that plaintiff have suffered an "injury in fact"—- an invasion of a judicially cognizable which interest (a) concrete and particularized (b) actual and imminent, not conjectural or hypothetical; (2) that there be causal connection between the injury and the conduct complained of—- the injury must be fairly traceable to the challenged action of the defendant. not the result of the independent action of some third party not before the court; and (2) that it be likely, as opposed to merely speculative, that the injury will be redressed by a favorable decision.

Bennett v. Spear, 520 U.S. 154, 167, 117 S.Ct. 1154, 137 L.Ed.2d 281 (1997) (citing Lujan v. Defenders of Wildlife, 504 U.S. 555, 560–61, 112 S.Ct. 2130, 119 L.Ed.2d 351 (1992)). Since Defendants only challenge the existence of an "injury in fact" and the applicability of prudential limitations, the Court will only address these two aspects of standing.

1. Injury in Fact

Plaintiffs must show that they have [4] "sustained or [are] immediately in danger of sustaining some direct injury as the result of the challenged official conduct and the injury or threat of injury must be both real and immediate, not conjectural or hypothetical." City of Los Angeles v. Lyons, 461 U.S. 95, 101-102, 103 S.Ct. 1660, 75 L.Ed.2d 675 (1983). To support their argument that Plaintiffs have failed to assert a cognizable injury, Defendants rely on Sierra Club v. Morton, 405 U.S. 727, 92 S.Ct. 1361, 31 L.Ed.2d 636 (1972). In that case the Supreme Court found that the Sierra Club's asserted interest in "the *1269 conservation and the sound maintenance of the national parks, game refuges, and forests of the country" was insufficient for standing purposes because there was no allegation any of the Sierra Club members ever used the area in question. The Supreme Court stated:

The Sierra Club failed to allege that it or its members would be affected in any of their activities or pastimes by the...development. Nowhere in the pleadings or affidavits did the Club state that its members use Mineral King for any purpose, much less that they use it in a way that would be significantly affected by the proposed actions of respondents.

Id. at 735, 92 S.Ct. 1361. See also Lujan
v. National Wildlife Federation, 497 U.S.

871, 883, 110 S.Ct. 3177, 111 L.Ed.2d

695 (1990) (finding that Splatified 100415 were not entitled to standing unless they could demonstrate that they used specific federal lands that were being mined under the new federal regulations). The case at bar, however, cannot fail on these same grounds since Plaintiffs have alleged that they do use the area in question, and that their activities and pastimes have been affected by the proposed trail development plans. (See Pasko Decl. in Supp. of Pls.' Mot. for Summ. J. ¶¶ 2-4; Duvernoy Decl. in Supp. of Pls.' Mot. for Summ. J. ¶¶ 3–4.) Defendants' argument also ignores CLC's economic and property interests through its investment in the development of the trail, and its contractual interest in the right-ofway, should King County fail in its efforts to develop the trail. (See Duvernoy Decl. ¶ 3.) See, e.g., Tyler v. Cuomo, 236 F.3d 1124, 1132 (9th Cir.2000) (finding standing based on plaintiffs' property interests).

In contrast to Sierra Club, the Court [5] finds United States v. Students Challenging Regulatory Agency Procedures (SCRAP), 412 U.S. 669, 93 S.Ct. 2405, 37 L.Ed.2d 254 (1973), to be more on-point. In SCRAP the Supreme Court upheld the standing of a group of students who maintained that their enjoyment of the forests, streams, and mountains in the Washington D.C. areas would be lessened as a result of an increase in railroad freight costs that would then have a domino effect of discouraging the use of recycled goods due to higher shipping costs which would lead to more use of natural resources, including more mining and pollution in the immediate area. Id. at 688, 93 S.Ct. 2405. See also Friends of the Earth v. Laidlaw Envtl. Servs.,

Inc., 528 U.S. 167, 120 S.Ct. 693, 145 L.Ed.2d 610 (2000) (holding plaintiffs had standing to challenge environmental harm because they alleged that they used the affected areas for recreational purposes). The lesson from these cases is that a plaintiff's complaint must specifically allege that he or she has personally suffered an injury. Plaintiffs, by alleging personal injuries, demonstrate that they understand this lesson. (See, e.g., Compl. ¶¶ 2.1-2.3.) In sum, the Court finds that Plaintiffs have demonstrated "injury in fact" through an inability to use and enjoy the trail as a result of its stymied development allegedly due to the City of Sammanish's PAUE permitting requirements.

2. Prudential Limitations

Defendants also object that [8] [6] [7] Plaintiffs lack standing based on prudential limitations invoked to guard against generalized grievances. The prohibition against generalized grievances prevents individuals from suing if their only injury is as a citizen. Warth v. Seldin, 422 U.S. 490, 499, 95 S.Ct. 2197, 45 L.Ed.2d 343 (1975). The existence of a generalized *1270 grievance is not determined simply by the number of people affected. Desert Citizens Against Pollution v. Bisson, 231 F.3d 1172, 1177 n. 5 (9th Cir.2000). Rather, a generalized grievance is where the plaintiffs sue solely as citizens concerned with having the government follow the law. Northern Plains Res. Council v. Lujan, 874 F.2d 661, 668 (9th Cir. 1989). As the Court has already found, however, Plaintiffs have alleged a legally cognizable injury, which inherently requires a conclusion that Spingoffs orangeries 001764 are personal, not merely general. The fact that other King County and Sammamish residents might also claim injury based on the inability to use the proposed trail does not mandate that the Court find Plaintiffs' grievance to be too general to support standing. To the contrary, the Court finds that Plaintiffs have alleged an "injury in fact" and that prudential limitations do not apply. As a matter of law Defendants' standing arguments must fail. Plaintiffs have the standing necessary to bring this suit.

C. Necessary and Indispensable Party

[9] Defendants further argue that King County, as the trail proponent and property owner, is a necessary party under Fed.R.Civ.P. 19(a), that King County cannot be joined because it lacks standing to sue, and that King County should be deemed "indispensable" under the four factor test in Fed.R.Civ.P. 19(b), forcing dismissal of this action.

Fed.R.Civ.P. 19 ("Rule 19") governs the compulsory joinder of parties needed for just adjudication. In general, "necessary" refers to those absentees who should be joined in the pending case; if joinder is infeasible, the present action can continue without a necessary party. 4 James W. Moore et al., Moore's Federal Practice and Procedure § 19.02[2][c] (3d ed.1997). "Indispensable" refers to those absentees who must be joined in the pending case if it is to go on; if joinder is infeasible the present action must be dismissed. Id. In federal question cases, such as the case at bar, <sup>7</sup> federal law governs whether any party is "necessary" or "indispensable." 7 Charles A. Wright, Arthur R. Miller & Mary Kay Kane, Fed. Prac. and Proc.: Civil 3d § 1603 at 30.

[10][11] Analysis under Rule 19 is a two-step process. First the Court must decide whether King County, the absentee, is a "necessary party" under Rule 19(a). If the Court finds that King County is a necessary party, then it must consider whether King County can be joined, and if not, whether "in equity and good conscience the action...should be dismissed." Washington v. Daley, 173 F.3d 1158, 1169 (9th Cir.1999). The burden of proving that a case should be dismissed for failure to join a necessary party falls to the moving party. Makah Indian Tribe v. Verity, 910 F.2d 555, 558 (9th Cir.1990).

1. Is absentee needed for just adjudication? An absent party is a necessary party if a court finds any of the following requisites have been met:

(1) in the person's absence complete relief cannot be accorded among already *1271 parties, or (2) the person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is so situated that the disposition of the action in the person's absence may (i) as a practical matter impair or impede the person's ability protect that interest, or (ii) leave any of the person leave any of the person leave 16-00415 already parties subject to a substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or otherwise inconsistent obligations by reason of his claimed interest.

Fed.R.Civ.P. 19(a).

[12] Defendants argue that complete relief cannot be accorded in the County's absence since King County would not be bound by a decision from this Court adverse to Plaintiffs. The purpose of the "complete relief" clause is to avoid duplicative litigation. See Northrop Corp. v. McDonnell Douglas Corp., 705 F.2d 1030, 1043 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 464 U.S. 849, 104 S.Ct. 156, 78 L.Ed.2d 144 (1983). It is to be interpreted narrowly, which is to say that the concern is in rendering complete justice among those already joined, not in finding an absentee is necessary simply to avoid multiple litigation. Id. at 1046. The Court finds that a ruling from this Court would provide complete relief among those already parties to this suit. Defendants' concern that King County would not be bound by a decision in Defendants favor is both irrelevant given the Court's findings on the federal preemption issue, see discussion infra at 14-15, and relates solely to the avoidance of multiple litigation.

[13] Defendants further argue under Rule 19(a)(2)(i) that King County is a necessary party because it is the property owner, project permit applicant, the entity financially responsible for the railbed pursuant to the NITU, and will ultimately operate the trail. It is unquestionable that King County has an interest in the case at bar. However, interest in the subject matter alone does not make one a necessary party. Given that King County is aware of this litigation and has chosen to entrust Plaintiffs to adequately litigate the issue of federal preemption (see Decl. of Ron Sims in Opp. to ELSCA's Mot. for Summ. J. ¶ 10), it would make little sense for the Court to find that King County's absence would impair its ability to protect its interest.

[14] Finally, Defendants express concern that the current parties could be subjected to inconsistent obligations in light of the state court decision rejecting the County's preemption claims. The Snohomish County Superior Court held that King County waived the right to litigate the preemption issue by failing to raise it before the hearing examiner. Plaintiffs were not parties to that action and are not bound by it. Therefore, a decision in this matter would simply moot that portion of the state court's order requiring application of the "practical alternative" requirement in SMC § 21A.50.070(2)(a) on remand. It does not subject Defendants to inconsistent obligations. See Delgado v. Plaza Las Americas, Inc., 139 F.3d 1, 3 (11th Cir.1998). Moreover, a ruling in Plaintiffs' favor by this Court does not limit the application of SMC § 21A.50.070(2)(a) to the East Lake Sammamish Trail alone—it limits its application to all railbanked rights-ofway approved for interim trail use by the STB. Finally, even if there were a risk of inconsistent obligations, which there is not, joining King County in this litigation would not obviate that risk. King County is not a necessary party.

In light of this finding, the Court need not proceed to the second step of the *1272 Rule 19 analysis. Defendants' "necessary and indispensable party" arguments fails as a matter of law.

D. Failure to state a claim

[15] Defendants argue that Plaintiffs' "purported facial challenge to a local ordinance based upon conflict preemption" does not state a claim upon which relief can be granted. Additionally, Defendants argue that Plaintiffs' failure to exhaust administrative remedies, which they avoid by characterizing this as a "facial challenge" instead of an "as applied" challenge, also bars Plaintiffs' complaint.

Plaintiffs have raised a conflict [16] preemption challenge essentially arguing that since the STB has designated the East Lake Sammamish right-of-way for development of a recreational trail, it is therefore beyond the power of the City of Sammamish to require King County to secure the right to develop a trail on the right-of-way, as opposed to near the rightof-way. The Court understands this to mean Plaintiffs are arguing that any application of the City's "practical alternatives" PAUE requirement goes above and beyond merely imposing safety, land use, or zoning regulations on a trail developed railbanked land, and thus is per se preempted by the federal Rails to Trails Act. Cf. California Coastal Comm'n v. Granite Rock, 480 U.S. 572, 580, 107 S.Ct. 1419, 94 L.Ed.2d 577 (1987). This clearly states a claim upon which relief can be granted. There are no administrative remedies requiring exhaustion before the Court can hear Plaintiffs' conflict preemption challenge. As a matter of law, the Court cannot grant summary judgment on this issue.

E. Abstention

[17] [18] Defendants also argue that the Pullman abstention doctrine precludes this Court from reviewing Plaintiffs' claim. Only in exceptional cases may a court abstain from resolving claims that are within its jurisdiction. United States v. Morros, 268 F.3d 695, 703 (9th Cir.2001). However, abstention is appropriate when resolution of a state issue would terminate a controversy and allow constitutional adjudication to be avoided. Railroad Comm'n of Texas v. Pullman Co., 312 U.S. 496, 501, 61 S.Ct. 643, 85 L.Ed. 971 (1941).

Defendants' argument that the Pullman abstention doctrine applies ignores clear Ninth Circuit precedent stating that in preemption cases Pullman abstention is inappropriate. 8 See Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. v. City of Lodi, 302 F.3d 928, 940 n. 12 (9th Cir.2002) (stating that preemption, as a federal question, is not considered a constitutional issue); Morros, 268 F.3d at 704 (same); Hotel Employees and Rest. Employees Int'l Union v. Nevada Gaming Com'n, 984 F.2d 1507, 1512 (9th Cir.1993) (same); Knudsen Corp. v. Nevada State Dairy Com'n, 676 F.2d 374, 377 -378 (9th Cir.1982) (same). Moreover, Defendants characterization of this case Eschibit 2hand SSDP2016-00415 use case is not an accurate description of the preemption issue before this Court. The controversy has not been terminated following remand to the City of Sammamish by the Snohomish County Superior Court *1273 since this case is not about how the ordinance applies, it is about the constitutionality of the ordinance. Once a definitive ruling has been issued on whether the ordinance is preempted, then the City and the state courts are free to decide how it applies to the East Lake Sammamish Trail.

F. Preemption

[19] The preemption doctrine [20] [21] is a corollary of the Supremacy Clause 9 of the United States Constitution, and in general provides that any municipal law that is inconsistent with federal law is without effect. Of the three types of preemption, explicit, field, and conflict preemption, this case only concerns the latter. Conflict preemption applies where a state law "stands as an obstacle to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress." Young v. Coloma-Agaran, 340 F.3d 1053, 1056 (9th Cir.2003) (quoting Freightliner Corp. v. Myrick, 514 U.S. 280, 287, 115 S.Ct. 1483, 131 L.Ed.2d 385 (1995)). It can exist "even when Congress has chosen to include an express preemption clause in a statute." Nathan Kimmel, Inc. v. DowElanco, 275 F.3d 1199, 1204 (9th Cir.2002) (citing Freightliner, 514 U.S. at 287, 115 S.Ct. 1483). See also Geier v. American Honda Motor Co., 529 U.S. 861, 869, 120 S.Ct. 1913, 146 L.Ed.2d 914 (2000).

[22] It is without question that federal regulation of railroads is both pervasive and comprehensive. See, e.g., Chicago & N.W. Transp. Co. v. Kalo Brick & Tile Co., 450 U.S. 311, 318, 101 S.Ct. 1124, 67 L.Ed.2d 258 (1981)In amending the National Trails System Act Congress sought to effect two purposes: (1) to "preserve established railroad rights-of-way for future reactivation of rail service, to protect rail transportation corridors, and to encourage energy efficient transportation use," and (2) to "encourage the development of additional trails" and "assist recreation[al] users by providing opportunities for trail use on an interim basis." Preseault v. Interstate Commerce Comm'n, 494 U.S. 1, 17–18, 110 S.Ct. 914, 108 L.Ed.2d 1 (1990). The section of the Act at issue in this case, 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d), provides as follows:

> The Secretary of Transportation, the Chairman of the Surface Transportation Board, and Secretary of Interior, in administering the Railroad Revitalization Regulatory Reform and 1976. Act of shall State encourage and local agencies and private interests to establish appropriate trails using the provisions of such programs. Consistent with the purposes of Act, and in furtherance of the national policy preserve established. railroad rights-csswa2016200415 future reactivation of rail service, to protect rail transportation corridors, and to encourage energy efficient transportation the case in of use. interim use of anv established railroad rightsof-way...such interim use shall not be treated, for purposes of any law or rule of law, as an abandonment of the use of such rights-ofway for railroad purposes.

It is therefore clear that railbanked corridors remain part of the national rail transportation system subject to the jurisdiction *1274 of the STB. Preseault, 494 U.S. at 5–6 n. 3, 110 S.Ct. 914; Good v. Skagit County, 17 P.3d 1216, 1219 (Wash.App.2001).

Moreover, Congress has determined every inactive railroad right of that appropriate for trail way use. See Citizens Against Rails-To-Trails v. Surface Transp. Bd., 267 F.3d 1144, 1153 (D.C.Cir.2001); Idaho N. & Pacific R.R. Co., 1998 WL 146208, (1998) (quoting IOWA S. R.R. CO. —EXEMPTION—ABANDONMENT IN POTTAWATTAMIE, MILLS, FREMONT AND PAGE COUNTIES, IA, 1989 WL 239065, 5 I.C.C.2d 496, 502–503 (1989)). While all parties agree that state and local governments have the right "to impose appropriate safety, land use, and zoning regulation on recreation trails," see IOWA SOUTHERN, 1989 WL 239065, 5 I.C.C.2d at 505, Plaintiffs argue that these regulations apply only to the extent that they do not frustrate development of a trail on the railbanked right of way. 10 This Court agrees. The purpose of the Rails to Trails Act is not to encourage the development of recreational trails near inactive railroad rights of way—it is to encourage the transition of these railbeds into recreational trails, and to preserve the right-of-way for possible future railroad reactivation. 11 In the case at bar, the STB has entered an order declaring that "interim trail use may be implemented" over the section of railbanked land at issue. (See Ex. 1 to Roberts Decl.) That the hearing examiner overturned the PAUE on the grounds that there are practical alternatives to location of the trail on the right-of-way demonstrates that this provision of the SMC "stands as a obstacle to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress." As a result, the Court finds that 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d) preempts the application of SMC § 21A.50.070(2)(a) to any railbanked railroad right-of-way. Summary judgment in Plaintiffs' favor is necessitated as a matter of law.

IV. CONCLUSION

In sum, the Court finds and rules as follows:

- (1) Plaintiffs have standing to bring suit. Defendant City of Sammamish's Motion for Summary Judgment is DENIED.
- *1275 (2) King County is not a necessary party, Plaintiffs have stated a claim upon which relief can be granted and application of the Probation 1001769 doctrine is inappropriate. Defendant—Intervenor ELSCA's Motion for Summary Judgment is DENIED.

- U.S. Const. (3) art. VI. cl. 2, 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d), and the 16, September 1998 decision of the Surface Transportation Board in The Burlington Northern and Santa Fe Railway Company—Abandonment Exemption—In King County, WA., STB Docket No. AB-6 (Sub. No. 380X) preempt the application to any railbanked railroad right-of-way of those portions of Sammamish Municipal Code § 21A.50.070 that require an applicant for a Public Agency Utility Exception to show that "there is no practical alternative to the proposed development with less impact on sensitive areas." Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment is GRANTED.
- (4) The Clerk is directed to enter judgment accordingly.

ORDER

This matter comes before the Court Intervenor-Defendant East Lake on Sammamish Community Association's Motion for Reconsideration (Dkt. No. 73). ELSCA challenges the Court's January 5, 2005 Order granting summary judgment in favor of Plaintiffs. Specifically, ELSCA argues that the Court committed manifest error in declining to abstain, or, alternatively, that the Court erred by applying the incorrect legal standard to Plaintiffs' preemption challenge to the Sammamish Municipal Code § 21A.50.070. For the following reasons, ELSCA's Motion for Reconsideration is hereby DENIED.

ELSCA asserts that it was [23] [24] manifest error for the Court to limit its abstention analysis solely to the doctrine set forth in Railroad Commission of Texas v. Pullman Company, 312 U.S. 496, 61 S.Ct. 643, 85 L.Ed. 971 (1941). Yet, even if the Court had considered the other myriad abstention doctrines, the result would have been the same. For example, had the Court considered Burford v. Sun Oil Company, 319 U.S. 315, 63 S.Ct. 1098, 87 L.Ed. 1424 (1943), it would have found abstention to be inappropriate in the case at bar. Burford abstention is appropriate where a case involves an unclear state law question of vital local concern, which must be addressed though a centralized unified state administrative system. Id. at 332, 63 S.Ct. 1098. It does not take a thorough recitation of the facts to realize that Burford is inapposite. It is simply enough to observe that, rather than involving a question of state law, the parties' dispute involved a question of preemption under federal law, thus it fails the first part of the Burford test. See New Orleans Pub. Serv., Inc. v. New Orleans, 491 U.S. 350, 362, 109 S.Ct. 2506, 105 L.Ed.2d 298 (1989) (finding that adjudication of plaintiff's federal preemption claim "would not disrupt the State's attempt to ensure uniformity in the treatment of an 'essentially local problem,' [citation omitted]."); U.S. v. Commonwealth *1276 of Kentucky, 252 F.3d 816, 827 (6th Cir.2001) (finding Burford abstention not warrante white case SSDP2016-00415 involved a question of preemption under federal law, not a question of state law).

Younger v. Harris, 401 U.S. 37, 91 S.Ct. 746, 27 L.Ed.2d 669 (1971), and its progeny would have likewise been inappropriate. Abstention under the principles of Younger is required upon demonstration of three factors: (1) there is an on-going state proceeding; (2) important state interests are implicated; and (3) the federal litigant is not barred from litigating federal constitutional issues in that proceeding. Gilbertson v. Albright, 381 F.3d 965, 978 (9th Cir.2004). "Direct interference" with the state court proceeding is no longer required as a condition of Younger abstention. Id. Here the first factor is satisfied since there is no dispute that the state court action was on-going when Plaintiffs filed this federal action. However, despite ELSCA's attempt to characterize the underlying issue as one affecting a state's land use decisions (an important state interest), the Court must look to the "importance of the generic proceedings to the state" rather than inquiring "into the substantiality of the State's interest in the outcome of the particular case." NOPSI, 491 U.S. at 365, 109 S.Ct. 2506 (emphasis in original). Upon such inquiry it becomes clear that the true issue at stake concerns regulation of the railroads, which includes regulation of railbanked rights-of-way. Given the pervasive federal regulation in this field, <sup>2</sup> this case clearly implicates important federal interests, rather than important state interests. Cf. NOPSI, 491 U.S. at 365, 109 S.Ct. 2506 (reiterating that regulation of utilities is "one of the most important of the functions traditionally associated with the police power of the States"). Because [25] [26] [27] Moreover, abstention under Younger abstention principles do not mandate abstention when the dispute does not implicate "important state interests" as refined by NOPSI, the Court did not err in declining to abstain from reaching the merits of Plaintiffs' federal preemption claim.

> [28] [29] [30] Finally, even consideration of Colorado River Water Conservation District v. United States, 424 U.S. 800, 96 S.Ct. 1236, 47 L.Ed.2d 483 (1976), shows that abstention in this matter is not appropriate. Colorado River, and subsequent caselaw, emphasizes the discretionary nature of a federal court's decision to abstain from exercising validly conferred jurisdiction. See id. at 817, 96 S.Ct. 1236. Factors relevant to a court's decision to abstain include: (1) whether the state court or the federal court has assumed jurisdiction over the res or property; (2) which forum is more convenient to the parties; (3) whether abstention would avoid piecemeal litigation; (4) which court obtained jurisdiction first; and (5) whether federal law or state law provides the basis for the decision on the merits. See Moses H. Cone Mem'l Hosp. v. Mercury Constr. Corp., 460 U.S. 1, 15-16, 23, 103 S.Ct. 927, 74 L.Ed.2d 765 (1983). However, the "mere potential for conflict in the results of adjudications is not the kind of 'interference' that merits federal court abstention." Green v. City of Tucson, 255 F.3d 1086, 1097 (9th Cir.2001) (citing Colorado River, 424 U.S. at 816, 96 S.Ct. 1236) (internal quotations omitted). Important to the Supreme Court's inolding SSDP2016-00415 in Colorado River were its findings of the extensive involvement *1277 of state water rights in the claims before the parallel state and federal proceedings, and the existence of federal legislation reflecting a congressional policy to avoid piecemeal litigation in adjudicating water rights. Colorado River, 424 U.S. at 819–20, 96 S.Ct. 1236. Similar factors are notably absent from the case at bar. It would be inappropriate for the Court to rely on Colorado River as supporting abstention in this case.

[31] Alternatively, ELSCA argues that the Court "overlooked the significant difference between a 'facial' and an 'as applied' challenge to legislation," (Mot. for Recons. at 5), thus the Court's Order was in manifest error. ELSCA correctly points out that the standard applied to a "facial" constitutional challenge is different from the standard used in an "as applied" constitutional challenge. (ELSCA's Mot. for Summ. J. at 14–16.) However, in granting summary judgment in favor of Plaintiffs, the Court found that the National Trails System Act, 16 U.S.C. § 1247(d), preempts the practical alternatives prong of the Sammamish Municipal Code § 21A.50.070 each and every time that requirement is used to prevent development of a trail on a railbanked right-of-way. In reaching this conclusion the Court appropriately focused on the standard applicable to a facial challenge. The fact that there may be only one railbanked right-of-way in the City of Sammamish does not convert Plaintiffs' facial challenge into an "as applied" challenge. The Court applied the correct legal standards in its preemption analysis.

In sum, the Court finds no error in its January 5, 2005 Order. For the aforementioned reasons, ELSCA's Motion for Reconsideration is DENIED.

Former Interim Sammamish Development Code ("ISDC") § 21A.24.070 is now recodified, without change, at Sammamish Municipal Code ("SMC") § 21A.50.070. The Court will refer to the recodified Public Agency and Utility Exception Ordinance, SMC § 21A.50.070, in the Analysis and Conclusion sections of this Order.
- $\underline{3}$  "Railbanking" describes the process of preserving inactive railroad rights-of-way as recreational trails.
- A NITU authorizes potential interim use of a railbed for trail purposes subject to a trail manager's assuming financial responsibility for the property and subject to possible future reconstruction and reactivation of the right-of-way for rail service under 49 C.F.R. § 1152.29.
- 5 The hearing examiner agreed with ELSCA that its plan (named the Rundle–Haro Plan), which detoured for various segments away from the wetland areas on the railbanked right-of-way, was a practical alternative with fewer impacts.
- Although the City of Sammamish did not specifically join in ELSCA's Motion for Summary Judgment, both parties presumably desire the same outcome—an entry of summary judgment against Plaintiffs. Therefore, for ease of reference, the Court will refer to the various arguments as arising collectively from "Defendants" rather than identify which party set forth which argument.

SSDP2016-00415

- This matter does not, as Defendants suggest, arise out of King County's property interest in the railbanked right-of-way. Rather, the cause of action is federal preemption, and thus arises "under the Constitution, laws, or treaties of the United States." See 28 U.S.C. § 1331.
- Perhaps that is why Defendants have abandoned the argument in their Reply and argue instead that the Court should abstain under the Colorado River Doctrine. Defendants raise the specter of Colorado River abstention for the first time in their reply brief. As such, the matter is not appropriately before the Court, and Plaintiffs' Surreply Motion to Strike (Dkt. No. 53) is therefore GRANTED.
- The Supremacy Clause provides: "[t]his Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; in all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land." U.S. Const. art. VI, cl. 2.
- Defendants attempt to discredit Plaintiffs preemption argument by pointing out several instances throughout the PAUE permitting process during which King County committed to complying with all state and local permitting requirements is unavailing. Implicit in these statements is a commitment to comply with all environmental regulations as they might be applied to the railbanked land. Indeed this is still a commitment Plaintiffs appear willing to make. (See Pls.' Mot. at 2:10–2:12, 16 n. 4.) By agreeing to comply with all permitting requirements as they relate to development of the trail on the railbanked land, Plaintiffs have not ceded their right to argue federal preemption of parts of these regulations that might require the County to locate the proposed trail elsewhere.
- This decision squares with the reasoning of our sister court in Idaho, who addressed a strikingly similar set of facts. In Blendu v. Friends of the Weiser River Trail, Inc., Civ. No. 98–0311–S–BLW, 1999 WL 33944266 (D. Idaho June 10, 1999) (Ex. 10 to Roberts Decl.) opponents of a proposed trail sought to enjoin trail use of a railbanked right-of-way on grounds that recreational use of the corridor was inconsistent with a county zoning ordinance. The district court held, "[t]he STB has...clearly indicated its intention to cede back to states and local governments the right to impose zoning and safety regulations on the trails so long as those regulations do not interfere with (1) the railroad's right to convert the corridor back into a railway at some point in the future and (2) the trail managers's right and ability to maintain the right-of-way as a recreational trail in the interim" (emphasis added). Id. at 11.
- This argument is based on the Ninth Circuit's reference in Gilbertson v. Albright, 381 F.3d 965 (9th Cir.2004), to the Supreme Court's observation that "the various types of abstention are not rigid pigeon-holes into which Federal Courts must try to fit cases [...]." New Orleans Pub. Serv., Inc. v. New Orleans, 491 U.S. 350, 359, 109 S.Ct. 2506, 105 L.Ed.2d 298 (1989) (internal citation omitted). (See Mot. for Recons. at 3.)
- 2 See, e.g., Chicago v. N.W. Transp. Co. v. Kalo Brick & Tile Co., 450 U.S. 311, 318, 101 S.Ct. 1124, 67 L.Ed.2d 258 (1981).

ACCESS EASEMENT, OPTION TO ACQUIRE UTILITIES EASEMENT, AND ROADWAY MAINTENANCE AGREEMENT

In partial settlement of the case entitled Joseph II. Jobe and Shirley A. Jobe. Co-Trustees of the Jobe Revocable Trust, dated June 3, 1998 and Mark J. Jobe and Stephanic A. Jobe. husband and wife (hereinafter "Jobe", v. Jonsen Family Trust, Rhea Bark and John Schaller. Trustees (hereinafter "JFT"), King County Cause No. 93-2-16634-9, and for other valuable consideration, the parties hereby enter into the following agreement on behalf of themselves, their heirs, successors and assigns:

1. Access Fasement. [FT conveys and grants a permanent, non-exclasive appurtunant easement for ingress and opross over, across and upon a portion of vacated N.E. 16th Street (hereinafter "Access Fasement") legally described in Exhibit A for ingress and agress to the following properties owned by Jobe, Lots 21 and 22, and Lots 11-17, Block 5, Inglewood Addition Plat recorded in fee ownership or July 23, 1889, Volume 3, page 169, records of King County, Washington and to any other lets in Block 5, Inglewood Addition Plat recorded in fee ownership on July 23, 1889, Volume 3, page 169, records of King County, Washington which Jobe may acquire ("Jobe Properties.")

2. Pullities Easement. [FT hereby grants to Jobe the option to purchase an easement for underground utilities, to be located in the smallest area necessary to meet the requirements of the utility service providers and adiacent to the paved Roadway Improvements for $7,500.00 to service jobn Proporties. All costs of utility installation and maintenance shall be paid by Jobe. Jobe agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless FT against all costs or claims relating to the installation, use or maintenance of utilities.

The parties acknowledge that a sewer line serving Grantoe's Property and other property, presently crosses Grantor's Property. Granter, by executing this agreement, hereby conveys of record to Grantee a perpetual non-exclusive appurtment easement to maintain the sewer line easement in its existing location.

The option to acquire the utilities easoment shall be exercised as follows:

- (a) Jobe shall provide JPT with a written notice of Jobe's intent to exercise the option. The notice shall include (I) Jobe's address and phone number. (ii) a date, no less than 30 days from the date of the notice, that Jobe would like to close the transaction, and (iii) the name, address and telephone number of an escrow agent for closing the transaction (which either party may elect to use if they believe that they are unable to properly close the transaction without the assistance of said agent). The notice, in the absence of prior written direction otherwise, may be sent to the taxpayer address as maintained by the County Assessor.
- (b) The easement shall be in the form attached as Exhibit D.
- (c) IFT shall pay any excise tax which may be due and owing at the time of the conveyance of the easement. Jobe shall pay the costs incurred for the recording of the easement. Escrow fees, if any, shall be evenly split between Jobe and HT.
- 3. Roadway Maintenance. Jobe has constructed concrete surfaced roadway improvements within the Access Easement ("Roadway Improvements") under a permit from King County.
- Improvements to provide ingress and egress for up to two single family residences on property presently owned by JFT which is logally described in Exhibit B and to any property acquired in the future by JFT in Inglewood Addition Plat, recorded in fee ewnership on July 23, 1889. Volume 3, page 169, records of King County. Washington thereinafter "JFT Properties), and for up to two single family residences on property presently owned by John which is logally described in Exhibit C, and to any property acquired by John which is logally described in Exhibit C, and to any property acquired by John in the future in Inglewood Addition Plat, recorded in fee ownership on July 23, 1889, Volume 3, page 169, records of King County, Washington.
- 3.2 Jobe shall maintain the Roadway Improvements at his sole cost and expense until such time as JFT decides to use the Roadway Improvements for motor vehicle ingress and ogress to JFT Properties.
- 3.3 Until JFT uses the Roadway interovements for motor vehicle access. Jobe shall indepently, defend and hold JFT harmless from all claims of any kind relating to the design, construction or maintenance of the Roadway Improvements, including those for injuries, death and damages, provided, however, that once JFT commences using the Roadway Improvements for motor vehicle access, this indemnity shall not thereafter extend to claims asserted by JFT or their guests or instincts invitoes.

- 3.4 Jobe shall maintain liability insurance with limits of at least $500,000 per occurrence until JFT commences using the roadway for motor vehicle access. Once both parties are using the Roadway Improvements of motor vehicle access, both parties shall maintain liability insurance with the limits set above or such other greater amount as both parties shall agree on and Jobe's duty to indemnify against claims based on maintenance of the Roadway Improvements shall terminate.
- 3.5 Case both Jobe and JFT are using the Roadway Improvements for motor vehicle ingress and egress, the roadway maintenance shall be shared on a prorata basis dependent upon the number of lots (residential or not) being served. If there are more than two parties using the Roadway Improvements, then maintenance decisions shall be made by majority vote, but all parties shall share in the costs on a prorata basis. A homeoweers association shall be established to make maintenance decisions and to assess property owners for their prorata share of costs. If one party faits to pay his prorata share of duly voted maintenance costs, the remaining parties or the association may complete the maintenance at their cost and place a lien against the property of the owner who failed to make his fair share contribution to the maintenance of the Roadway Improvements. At no time shall either the JFT or Jobe properties be responsible for more than one half of the costs of maintenance of the Roadway Improvements.

If there are only two owners using the Roadway Improvements, and the parties are not unanimous in agreeing to pay for certain maintenance, either party may perform the maintenance at its sole cost, but shall not be entitled to a lien to recover balf of the costs.

- 3.6 IFT shall pay all real estate taxes on the Across Easement, provided, however, if the Roadway Improvements are ever taxed separately, Jobe shall pay the real estate taxes on the Roadway Improvements so long as JFT does not use the Roadway Improvements for motor vehicle across. If the Roadway Improvements are taxed separately and are used jointly for motor vehicle across, both JFT and Jobe shall each pay one half of the taxes.
- 3.7 If the design or construction of the Roadway Improvements needs to be modified to allow access to the PT or Jobe properties, the costs of any modifications shall be borne by the party needing access and no modification shall materially interfere with the use of the Access Easement or Roadway Improvements by the other party.
- 4. Railroad Geossing. Jobe has a permit from the Burlington Northern Railway to cross the railroad tracks for vehicular ingress and egress and has an easement on the western side of the railroad right of way for ingress and egress to the Jobe properties in Block 6. Inglewood Addition Plat. Jobe agrees to allow JFT to use his easement to access any JFT Properties. If further permits are required from the railroad, Jobe agrees not to oppose any such application by JFT but Jobe shall have no monetary obligation arising from the further granting to access rights by the railroad to FT. If FT uses Jobe's permitted railroad crossing for access, Jobe and IFT shall each share equally in the costs of the permit which is now $60.00 per annum. IFT acknowledges that Jobe's agreement to allow IFT to use the crossing easement shall be construed as no more than the quit claim of a non-exclusive casement without any warranty or any other guarantees whatsoever regarding Jobe's right to do so.

5. Option to Paralase Shorelands. IFT owns the second class shorelands abutting the lots in block 5, Inglewood Addition Plat, except as conveyed to Tinker and lobe. For three years from the date of this agreement, IFT grants to Jobe the non-exclusive option to purchase the second class shorelands abutting any lot in block 5 for $2,500 per let if Jobe acquires title to the lot. IFT reserves the right to sell the second class shorelands to the owners of any lot in Block 5 at a price no greater than $2,500 per lot during the three years that Jobe has a right to purchase the shorelands.

The option to acquire the shorelands easement shall be exercised as follows:

- (a) Jobe shall provide [PT with a written notice of Jobe's intent to exercise the option. The notice shall include (i) Jobe's address and phone number. (ii) a date, no less than 39 days from the date of the notice, that Jobe would like to close the transaction. (iii) the name, address and telephone number of an escrew agent for closing the transaction (which either party may elect to use if they believe that they are unable to properly close the transaction without the assistance of said agent.) The notice, in the absonce of prior written direction otherwise, may be sent to the taxpayer address as maintained by the County Assessor.
- 6. Latecomers. No easement shall be granted to provide access or utilities to properties other than those owned by the parties, their heirs, successors, or assigns, except for recreational uses, without the written agreement of all parties to this agreement. JFT and Jobe shall equally share the proceeds of any such easement.
- 7. Costs of Future Readway Improvements. The parties agree that the Readway Improvements shall, unless otherwise agreed in writing, be exclusively used by the parties, their heirs, successors, and assigns to serve proporties owned by them. They agree that the Readway Improvements shall serve no more than four single-family residences and all recreational uses. Each party shall be entitled to use the Readway Improvements for two single-family residences on properties owned by them. The term "properties owned by them" as it applies to the Jensen Family Trust shall include trust properties fronting on the readway and property owned by Rhea and Paul Bark to the north of the readway and to the north of the fobe shoreline properties. In the case of Jobe, "properties owned by them" shall include any lots in block 5. Inglewood Plat, recorded in Volume 3 of Plats, page 169 in King County, Washington, now owned or hereafter acquired by Jobe, his heirs, successors and assigns.
